Situation In Manchuria Reported As Growing Worse

OFFICIALS OF LEAGUE IMPATIENT

Adjournment of Council is Discussed But Action Delayed for Few Days

REPORT SUBMITTED

Stimson's Attitude Regarding Troops Withdrawal Aggravates Situation

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The Japanese embassy reported today upon advice from Tokyo that the civil administration of Mukden, capital of Manchuria, had been returned to the Chinese.

The new mayor of the city is Chao Chin Po, according to the embassy. The entire Japanese administration staff, which had functioned since capture of the city in mid-September, has resigned, it was said.

GENEVA, Oct. 21.—(UP)—League of Nations quarters became outwardly impatient today at the delay in approaching a solution of the Manchurian dispute. Adjournment of the league council was discussed.

It was admitted the situation was growing worse despite hopes aroused through President Aristide Briand's private conversations with the Chinese and Japanese delegates.

The situation was aggravated by unconfirmed reports that Secretary of State Stimson, who in September opposed sending a league commission of inquiry into Manchuria which Japan also opposed, was now supporting the Japanese demand for no fixed date for withdrawal of troops from Manchuria.

Council members who demanded a solution of the question this week believed it impossible and suggested immediate adjournment with a meeting in two or three weeks at Paris.

An important secret communication outlining in detail the Chinese side of the Manchurian dispute was submitted to the league council today.

It was believed the Chinese document would determine the next move in the league's efforts to settle the dispute. The communication covered the entire Manchurian situation.

League leaders maintained that Japan had made the issue between the league and Japan had not between China and Japan. For this reason, the reported American support of an unnamed date for withdrawal of Japanese troops was unwelcome.

The Japanese delegation, insisted that Chief Delegate Kenkichi Yoshizawa had not received instructions from Tokyo on Briand's request to clarify Japanese demands for security and recognition of treaty rights in Manchuria and fixing the basis of future Sino-Japanese relations.

Briand also asked an explanation of the allegation that 2000 additional Japanese troops were rushed into Manchuria on the night of September 19.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 21.—[To the Editor of The Register:] Been having a big celebration down at Yorktown. The State of Virginia is celebrating their taking over the thirteen colonies from England, eventually losing the management of them to Pennsylvania and Mellon. I bet if Cornwallis was alive today he would have entered into the spirit of that celebration, for he just looked ahead 150 years and lost that war on purpose. Look at the Philippines, if one of our generals would lose them for us he would be our great national hero.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

POOLING PLAN IS SUGGESTED BY COMMISSION

Stabilizing Plan for Railroads Will Avert Possible Wage Cuts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(UP)—A plan for stabilizing the critical railroad situation without recourse to wage cuts has been advanced as another of the efforts which the government is making to revive basic industries and restore confidence to American business.

The interstate commerce commission proposed the plan yesterday in rejecting the carriers' petition for a blanket 15 per cent rate increase. It contemplates a huge pool of millions of dollars, accrued through widely spread but small rate increases for the benefit of roads in financial distress. The increases would have no effect upon the average citizen.

As a companion effort to the $500,000,000 national credit corporation and the proposed improvements in the real estate and home building situations, the railroad plan would marshal from $100,000,000 to $125,000,000 for another industry weakened by the strain of adverse business conditions and vitiated credit.

By making its counter proposal, the commission was believed to have averted for the time being at least any further speculation regarding wage reductions for rail workers such as a flat denial probably would have occasioned.

To take advantage of the commission's offer to permit increased rates on coal, lumber, ores and oil, the railroads must present their agreement on or before Dec. 1. The increases would be temporary, extending only to March 31, 1933.

While the increases would in effect cost every man, woman and child in the United States about one dollar, the ordinary citizen probably would notice no difference in his pocketbook. For instance, an increase of 33 per cent would be authorized for coal and lumber. A car contains about 50 tons of coal so the increase, even if passed along entirely to the consumer, would amount to only six cents per ton. A man could build a house with less than $10 additional chargeable to increased freight rates.

PORTERVILLE CITY OFFICIAL MISSING

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Former City Councilman C. R. Oglesby was sought today in the San Francisco bay region, following his disappearance from a San Francisco hotel last week. The search for Oglesby was made known only yesterday after it had been under way quietly for several days.

NO TRACE FOUND OF WOMAN WANTED IN TRUNK MURDERS

Dam Report Approved By Coast Group

Flood Control and Water Conservation Program Discussed at Meet

THE ORANGE COUNTY Coast association at its first meeting at Huntington Beach last night approved the report of its committee on water conservation made last June. This report approves the 1931 flood control and water conservation program with a dam at the upper Prado site on the Santa Ana river, contingent upon the coast area being assured that it will be allotted a share of the conserved waters of the Santa Ana river in proportion to the portion of the cost of the project paid by that region.

Speakers who discussed the project last night made it emphatic that they favored the project only on this condition.

In a statement today Thomas Murphree, mayor of San Clemente and chairman of the coast association water sub-committee explained the assurance that was desired by the coast communities as follows:

"We are not asking for pipes lines or systems of distribution of the conserved water. We merely ask that we will be permitted to pump our just proportion of the waters saved by the dam construction and its operation. There have been suits filed to prevent pumping and we want to be assured that all this will drop. The conserved water will be released for absorption into the underground basin, and if 1000 acre feet is put in the basin, we want the right to pump our proportionate share of that water."

Negotiations had been under way since the report was filed in an attempt to harmonize it and the report of the water conservation committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

Petition Supervisors Two weeks ago a group representing the latter body asked the board of supervisors to negotiate with water companies with a view to making an equitable arrangement for use of their lands in the Santa Ana canyon in case the upper Prado dam project is approved by the voters. At the same time the supervisors urged to participate in a proposed conference for settling questions in regard to water use in the San Juan basin, over which a difference of opinion has been reported.

The coast association water committee report concludes with the following paragraph:

"We recommend that the board of supervisors prior to calling an election for the purpose of adopting the report in question and issuing bonds as provided therein, determine their right and authority under the flood control act, if they find they have no right or authority under such act to acquire, allocate or allow distribution of saved waters, to coast communities, then to hold the calling of such an election in abeyance until the act can be so amended by the state legislature to allow such action. But if they find they have such authority or can so use

ARREST TWO YOUTHS AND TAKE AWAY GUN

EL CERRITO, Calif., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Two Berkeley youths were held here today on a varied assortment of charges after an encounter with a Richmond policeman that almost ended in a gun battle.

FRIEND RICHARDSON MAY BE NAMED LOAN COMMISSIONER

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Former Governor Friend W. Richardson will probably become California's next building and loan commissioner.

This was learned from reliable sources at the state capitol today when it became known that friends of Richardson have urged his appointment upon Governor James Rolph Jr., and that Rolph was very favorably impressed with the suggestion.

H. L. Carnahan, former lieutenant governor, who accepted the post of building and loan commissioner early this year after the $8,000,000 Guarantee Building and Loan debacle in Hollywood, is expected to relinquish the position within the next month, it was disclosed.

His chief deputy, Ray Rule, already has resigned, effective October 1, which removed him from consideration for the position.

Richardson's appointment would work a considerable change in the political situation in California.

It would remove him as a possible contender for the position of United States senator against Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, who is seeking re-election. Richardson has never denied that he would become a candidate for this post.

It would also remove him from consideration for the second congressional position created by establishing a new district in Alameda county. This would leave as the outstanding candidates, Fred E. Stewart, chairman of the state board of equalization, and Assemblyman Harold C. Claudman of Berkeley.

A Rolph-Richardson alliance would have considerable effect upon the gubernatorial race in 1934. Governor Rolph is known to be considering the campaign for a second term, and he will undoubtedly be opposed by Lieutenant Governor Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach, whose activities are already regarded as laying a foundation for his candidacy.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Oct. 21.—(UP)—S. S. B. Morse, grand nephew of the inventor of the telegraph and millionaire president of the Del Monte Properties company, and two other men were believed drowned today on a fishing trip.

Morse, with Charles Olmstead, officer of the Del Monte company, and Glen Johnson, captain of the 35-foot fishing boat Dolphin, were long overdue since leaving early this morning on a fishing trip.

A woman identified only as Mrs. Willoughby, seashore resident, reported to Carmel police she saw a launch overturn off Carmel, precipitating three men into the sea. The coast guard cutter Smith was called out but was unable to locate Morse's party or the overturned boat.

The party left Stillwater Cove, Pebble Beach, at 6 a. m., expecting to be gone only a short time for some early morning fishing. They took no food and made no other preparations for an extended trip.

Mrs. Willoughby telephoned her report of the launch capsizing a half hour later and search was begun immediately.

The Del Monte Properties company owns the famous hotel Del Monte and other resort and development property.

OAKLAND POLICEMEN UNDER FIRE TODAY

OAKLAND, Oct. 21.—(UP)—More than 150 Oakland policemen were under fire today in an investigation by District Attorney Earl Warren of Alameda county into evidence that bootleggers are paying huge sums of "protection money" here.

Aided by federal agents during an inquiry lasting two months, Warren claimed information linking officers with the payment of $50,000 or more a month in bribes by liquor interests, and the asserted sale of seized liquor to bootleggers.

Warren alleged one special duty officer had withdrawn nearly $40,000 from a hidden bank account since July and that another, paid $250 a month salary, had deposited $20,000 in a year.

Southland Combed For Winnie Judd

Wife of Los Angeles Physician Reported Seen in Orange County

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—With a zeal almost equal to the search for William Edward Hickman, murderer of Marion Parker, the hunt for Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, 27, accused of the "trunk slayings" of two of her friends, went on throughout Southern California and Arizona today.

Just as in the case of Hickman, Mrs. Judd was reported seen a dozen times in as many different places but as the day wore on each of these tips seemed to have been groundless.

One woman was questioned twice, first at San Pedro and then again near Victorville. Twice local police were called to downtown hotels by clerks who believed Mrs. Judd was one of their guests. A woman "resembling" Mrs. Judd was reported hitch-hiking for the Mexican border while still another was en route from San Diego to New Mexico.

Authorities were of the opinion that Mrs. Judd was in or near Los Angeles because she was believed to have only a few dollars, but mindful of the manner in which Hickman squirmed out of Southern California in 1927, they worked carefully on each tip.

Some officials were of the opinion that the woman, accused of murdering her two friends, Miss Helge Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Lerol, in Phoenix, and shipping their bodies here as luggage, would not be found alive.

This theory was shared by her husband, Dr. William Judd, and her brother, B. J. McKinnell, both of whom said they believed Mrs. Judd would be dead when located.

McKinnell, who admitted he accompanied his sister when she went to the Southern Pacific station in an attempt to claim the trunks in which the bodies were shipped here, was free today after being held since Tuesday night as a material witness.

Dr. Judd likewise was released by authorities after long questioning.

BELIEVE MAN ALSO IN KILLINGS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Out of a mass of conflicting rumors, there grew today conviction in the minds of Phoenix investigators that a man was implicated in the murder of Mrs. Agnes Anne Lerol and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, of whose slayings Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd is accused.

At the same time police revealed that a search of Mrs. Judd's apartment had revealed a small quantity of venal, several bottles of wine and a quart of rum.

Dr. William C. Judd, the woman's husband, told Los Angeles police that she had used the mild drug to quiet her nerves. Police Chief George Briscoe was informed.

Neighbors of Mrs. Judd declared a car bearing a California license plate was in front of Mrs. Judd's home Thursday and Friday, just prior to the time of the killing.

Police also were informed that a man accompanied Mrs. Judd to the Southern Pacific station.

At the same time police revealed that a search of Mrs. Judd's apartment had revealed a small quantity of venal, several bottles of wine and a quart of rum.

Edison Workers Pay Tribute To Inventor

Final tribute was paid to the memory of Thomas Alva Edison, by employees of the Southern California Edison company, here this morning. At 11:58 o'clock, at a signal from District Manager Rodney Bacon, every employee of the company halted his or her work and for two minutes stood with bowed head.

This tribute was paid by every employee of the Edison company throughout the country.

At 7 o'clock tonight every person in Santa Ana has been requested by Mayor Knox to turn off the electric lights in every home and office for one minute.

PATIENTS ARE RESCUED FROM HOSPITAL FIRE

Twenty Are Removed from Blazing Building in Oakland This Morning

OAKLAND, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Twenty patients in the main building of St. Anthony's hospital were removed safely today when fire menaced the structure.

A triple alarm summoned all available fire apparatus and firemen assisted hospital attendants in removing the patients to the maternity ward in an adjoining building. None was injured.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

There was no panic. The hospital is a two-story frame building which was converted from a residence.

Firemen later attributed the blaze to a defective flue. It started near the room on the second floor.

Police and firemen braved the fire and choking fumes to rescue R. C. Green, who lay near the flames with a broken leg.

The patients overcome were Zelma Orblison and Joseph Sears, both of Oakland.

RICHARD DIX WEDS IN YUMA TUESDAY

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Richard Dix, portrayer of virile masculine roles of the screen, and his wife, the former Winifred Coe of San Francisco, were in seclusion here today following their quiet wedding in Yuma, Ariz., late yesterday.

Accompanied by his father, E. C. Brimmer, his sister, Josephine Brimmer, Mrs. Winifred Scott Coe, mother of the bride, and J. Walter Ruben, film director, Dix and Miss Coe flew to Yuma where justice of the peace Freeman performed the ceremony.

Dix gave his true name as Ernest Carlton Brimmer, and his age as 37. His wife, daughter of a retired San Francisco wholesale grocer, is 23. The couple met at a dinner party four years ago, but the romance did not blossom until a month ago, when they again met at a family dinner.

CONFESSED ROBBER OF BANK IS HELD

DENVER, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Norman Wharton, 21 year old ex-sailor and son of a prominent Colorado Springs family was held in jail here today, the confessed robber of the Englewood state bank. In addition the youth had confessed a series of small holdups here.

Wharton was arrested at Colorado Springs after he had made so much display with the $1000 he took from the bank that he attracted police attention.

OLD FRIENDS PAY TRIBUTE TO INVENTOR

Body Laid to Rest in Cemetery Overlooking Beloved Grove of Oranges

MRS. HOOVER PRESENT

Notable Americans Attend Last Rites as Friends and Not as Officials

WEST ORANGE, Oct. 21.—(UP)—With the old-fashioned simplicity that marked the pattern of his life, Thomas Alva Edison went to his rest this afternoon in a sunshine flooded cemetery overlooking his beloved rolling countryside in the Oranges.

In the subdued atmosphere of Lowell park, at the comfortable old mansion that has been the Edison home for years, and later in the shadows of a great oak that stood by the graveside, the presence of notable Americans who came not as officials but as friends to say farewell to him, seemed unmarked and unnoticed.

Even the presence of Mrs. Herbert Hoover, representing the president of the United States, reflected no measure of official display at a ceremonial which was as homely as it was brief.

The guests, all friends of the great inventor and many of them treasuring the memory of having shared with him his early achievements began arriving at the pillared mansion at 1:30 p. m., an hour before the ceremony. They entered the home through wide double doors of heavily carved oak, and were met in a plain reception room. A smiling portrait of Edison looked down upon them.

From this hall, they passed to the drawing room—Edison insisted in calling it a parlor, "just an old-fashioned parlor"—and in a square alcove beyond rested the bier.

The alcove was massed with flowers. Through its windows the guests could look out upon the broad green lawns, and forest of the park, gorgeous in their autumn colorings.

An adjoining conservatory was likewise banded high with flowers. Massed floral pieces, offerings of entire cities, communities and even countries, such as those from the Union of Soviet republics and Czechoslovakia, filled every available corner of the ground floor.

The guests were seated in the drawing room and conservatory. Upstairs, unseen by their friends, the immediate family of the inventor.

TWO NAVAL BOMBING PLANES SINK AT SEA

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Two speedy navy bombing planes "stubbled their toes" on waves, nosed over and sank, and their pilots had narrow escapes from death during tactical exercises at sea this week, the aircraft carrier Lexington reported when it returned to port today.

The fliers names were not given out.

Because they were using obsolete torpedoes, the ships were forced to dive close to the surface of the ocean before dropping the charges, catching the landing gear in the water. Nine torpedoes also were lost during the exercises.

PICTURE DIRECTOR PERFECTS INVENTION

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 21.—(UP)—An invisible ray which opens garage doors, sounds fire and burglar alarms day or night, was demonstrated here today by Fred Niblo, motion picture director, who has perfected the invention.

The uncanny machine dubbed "Telaray" is composed of a series of lights and reflectors. Passage of an object, even as light as cigarette smoke, across its path is sufficient to cause the machine to do everything but wind the clock and put out the cat. It is of particular value to large estates, where an intruder would cause it to turn on batteries of flood lights and sound alarms. Niblo said.

DAM REPORT IS APPROVED BY COAST GROUP

Their endeavor to obtain the above result, we recommend the calling of such election at an early date for the purpose of adopting the report in question and issuing bonds thereunder. And in that event, we hereby pledge our earnest support to such proceedings."

Given Support

Murphy, during the meeting, said that water conservation would draw the attention of the Economic Council of Southern California now that reappointment has been settled. The county supervisors were assured of the support of the group of men who compose the coast association in their efforts to put over a bond issue providing the coast request for allocation of conserved water is met.

Sumner Crosby, Laguna Beach editor, outlined the results of a newspaper campaign to advertise attractions of the coast district. Mr. Crosby is chairman of the advertising committee. The meeting paid a tribute and was held in observance of the completion of the elimination of "bottle necks" on the coast highway through Huntington Beach. This highway was the inspiration for the organization of the Coast association many years ago and the highway, largest traveled road in the world, it is claimed, is due largely to the work of the Coast association.

Fredericks Speaks

President J. P. Malcom, president of the association, introduced K. P. Fredericks, Long Beach newspaper man, who recently returned from a four months visit to Mexico. Fredericks talked on Mexico in a highly entertaining manner. He said that Mexico was politically minded and that the nation seethed with political unrest and other revolutions might be expected. He said that Mexico would not reach its stride in progress until the people became economically minded. He said Mexico's development depended on outside blood and capital.

The Woman's club served the dinner to the Coast association members at Memorial hall, beautiful structure completed here this year and dedicated to the soldiers of the nation for their free use as long as they live. Following the dinner many of the visitors inspected Memorial hall. Mrs. Marion Miller, president of the Woman's club, in response to a request of President Malcom, was introduced and made a short talk. Half the profits of the dinner will be turned over to the Welfare league for use for the unemployed here. The other half goes toward the payment of the debt of the Woman's club.

PARALYSIS VIRUS BEING MEASURED

PALO ALTO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The invisible virus of infantile paralysis has been measured by three Stanford university scientists in their search of a preventive agent. It was announced today.

An intricate process described as "ultra filtration" was used by Drs. Edwin Schultz, C. E. Clifton and L. P. Gebhart to establish the size of the virus, which is so small that no microscope can find it.

Dr. Schultz said their discovery was part of a research extending over two years in hopes of discovering a means to prevent the dread disease, known scientifically as poliomyelitis.

The size of the virus was fixed at less than 50 millimicrons, or one 500 thousandth of an inch.

COMPLETING STAFFS FOR BROKEN DISHES

A corps of technical workers, property committees and costume experts are combining their efforts to assure the success of the comedy production, "Broken Dishes," by Martin Flahn, which will open the fall season offerings of the Santa Ana Community Players. The play is to be presented at the Ebell club auditorium on the evenings of October 23, 30 and 31.

Mrs. Marshall Harnois, technical director, has assembled her committee chairmen for detailed planning during final days of rehearsal.

Assisting Mrs. Marshall on the stage are Max Holmes, in charge of scenery, Victor Morrison, stage carpenter, and Northrop Ellis, electrician.

The question of the properties for such a play as "Broken Dishes" is causing considerable concern to Mrs. William H. Spurgeon, property chairman, for she is responsible for details unsupervised by the casual observer.

Because the setting of the play is in the north during winter, it is necessary for the costume committee, headed by Mrs. Gladys Simpson Shafer, to secure such articles as ear muffs, woolen mittens and old fashioned men's scarfs for the players. One article that the committee is particularly in search of is a ultra-stylish fur lined overcoat, or at least with fur collar, such as villains have long worn on the stage.

Junita Wright Fletcher as make-up chairman and Mrs. Roy Beale in charge of furniture complete the list of technical chairmen.

REDUCE BAIL FOR ARSON SUSPECT

Julia Sultzer, Negro, awaiting trial in superior court on an arson charge, was released from the county jail today after she had made $500 bail. Her bond was set at $1000 when she was arraigned before Superior Judge James L. Allen last Friday, but it was reduced by the court today.

The woman is accused in connection with the partial burning of her home at 606 Daisy street. She pleaded not guilty when she was arraigned and her trial was set for November 9 and 10.

Monroe Head Of Y. M. C. A. Knights

George Monroe was installed president of the Knights of the Rag at the meeting of the organization held last night at the home of Don Lentz on Tustin avenue. The group is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. for high school boys who have gained recognition in the summer "Y" camps, denoted by the award of a bandana handkerchief.

Other officers included Donald Lentz, vice president, and Harold Lutes, secretary.

Several new members were inducted as pages last night. These were Harry Owings, Charles Crosby, George Bisset and Howard Quigley.

Hallowe'en refreshments were served by the host.

Torrance Cyclist Hurt in Accident

Hurtled from his motorcycle when it collided with an automobile at the intersection of Bishop and Shelton streets shortly after 1 p. m. today Clark Shelton, 1751 Arlington street, Torrance, was painfully injured. Doctors at the Orange County hospital, where the injured man was rushed in a Harrell and Brown ambulance, said that he had received a fractured leg and minor bruises.

Fred Davis, 202 Hathaway street, this city, was driving the automobile involved in the crash and made an immediate report of the accident to the Santa Ana police department.

NEVADA JURIST GIVES DIVORCE SEEKERS JOLT

people who come here merely for the purpose of obtaining a divorce and for no other reason," the divorce jurist said. "They made no attempt whatever to establish bona fide residence in Nevada and have purchased their round trip tickets to New York and elsewhere. Such divorces can be nullified by any court in the land and I, for one, do not intend to be a party to any such conspiracy."

"Persons who come to Reno to reside for an 'indefinite period of time' are entitled to a divorce after they have been here six weeks if they make a reasonable showing of their intentions to remain."

"But I will not grant divorces in the future to those who come here for six weeks only."

The casual residence cloud on Reno divorces in the past has been the cause of much concern to litigants and many courts in other states have voided the decrees. Judge Currier's action was taken as an endeavor to change the situation.

TWO MORE HELD IN ATTACK CASE PROCEEDINGS

Burl Ray, 22, and Karl H. Martin, 20, Orange youths arrested in connection with the case of Woodrow Ray and Virgil Heffner, the latter two charged with assault with a deadly weapon, were arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today as being accessories to the crime.

These youths are asserted to have spirited Woodrow Ray and Heffner out of the county on the night the boys fought with three Anaheim youths who were attempting to rescue two girls from them on Collins street in Orange, Sunday night.

Preliminary examination was set for October 28, at 9 a. m. and bail of $2500 each was demanded. The boys are said to have admitted that they took the two wanted youths away in a car and refused to tell officers where they were taken.

Arraignment for Woodrow Ray, 19, and Virgil Heffner, 19, Orange youths, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, who were arrested after they were alleged to have attempted an attack on two Fullerton junior high school girls in Orange last Sunday night, was held before Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday afternoon.

The boys were held in bail of $5000 each, and their preliminary examination was set for October 28, at 9 a. m.

The boys are alleged to have attacked Ralph Constock, 15, of 322 South Kruger street, Anaheim, when he and two other boys went to the aid of the Fullerton girls, who were screaming for help from the car in which they were seated with Ray and Heffner.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY HELD TO ANSWER

LeRoy Donald McLaughlin, 18, Santa Ana high school student, charged with grand theft in connection with the stealing of an automobile alleged to have been the property of A. H. Smith, of 122 East Eleventh street, was held to answer to the superior court today at the conclusion of his preliminary examination before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

The youth was arrested at the Santa Ana-San Diego football game here last Saturday, after he is asserted to have driven the stolen machine to the game. Smith, on the lookout for his car, reported stolen in September, saw the car and called the police.

Bail of $2500 was demanded from McLaughlin, who did not make it.

SEÑORITA CALLES IS MARRIED IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Senorita Arnelisa Calles, daughter of ex-president and present secretary of war Plutarco Elias Calles, and Dr. Joseph Ellers of New York were married at the Calles home here last night.

Five hundred guests, including United States Ambassador Reuben Clark Jr., President Pascual Ortiz Rubio and Senora Rubio, and many Mexican officials, witnessed the ceremony performed by Judge Rafael Rosas of the second civil court. Dr. Ellers, an Episcopalian, yielded to the wishes of the Calles family that there be no religious ceremony.

Local Briefs

The Orange County High School Principals association is scheduled to meet at 7 p. m. today at the Green Cat cafe. D. K. Hammond, principal of the Santa Ana High school and president of the association, is president of the association.

TURKEY THIEVES BALKED LAST NIGHT

Professional turkey thieves were frightened away early today after they had made an attempt to rob the pens belonging to Mrs. M. Trout, on West Seventeenth street, according to a report to Robert Sandon, of the district attorney's office and head of the fruit patrol.

Mrs. Trout was sleeping in a tent nearby when the arrival of the thieves aroused her. The professional touch had been given their work when they made careful preparations for a getaway by cutting a section out of a fence through which they drove and marked the spot with a pile of weeds. Mrs. Trout was of the opinion that several birds had been stolen although a definite count had not been made when the report was filed. Officers Porter and Snodgrass were investigating the case today.

William J. Hansler, who lives two miles west of Garden Grove on Ocean avenue, reported today the theft of 26 chickens from his pens. He said he secured the thieves away before they had completed their job. Officer Dungan investigated the case.

Robert Hockaday, of 2426 Hellotrope drive, Santa Ana, will leave Saturday for an extended tour through the east, visiting automotive factories and attending the annual convention of the National Standard Parts association to be held at Atlantic City December 4 to 12.

He is attending the convention as the representative from the automotive parts firm of Hockaday, Harlow and Phillips.

The trip is to be made by auto. Hockaday will take his wife and two children, Robert and Joanne, with him. They plan to visit Mr. Hockaday's home at Louisville, Colo., and Mrs. Hockaday's home at Ann Arbor, Mich., returning here by the first of the year.

The plumbers will meet in the offices of the Builders' exchange, in Santa Ana, at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

FAIL TO FIND ANY TRACE OF WINNIE JUDD

the station Sunday when she checked two trunks to Los Angeles.

Although it was at first believed someone had aided Mrs. Judd in moving a trunk from the apartment of Miss Samuelson and Mrs. Lerol on Saturday, it later was established that the work was done by Richard M. Swartz, truck driver.

Mrs. Judd was in the women's apartment when he arrived, and accounted for the weight of the trunk by saying it was filled with books, he said.

Police now believe both bodies were first placed in the one trunk, and that Miss Samuelson's body was removed and placed in a smaller steamer trunk owned by Mrs. Judd after being dissected, at Mrs. Judd's residence. A case of surgeon's instruments were also found in her home, police said.

MRS. JUDD REPORTED AT LAGUNA BEACH

Acting on a report by Harry Preverchan, Long Beach, that he picked up a hitch-hiker answering the description of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, sought for the slaying of Agnes LeRoi and Helvig Samuelson in Phoenix, officers of Orange county and San Diego county today were searching rooming houses and auto camps.

Preverchan reported that a woman answering the general description of Mrs. Judd stopped him on the Coast highway seven miles out of Long Beach yesterday morning about 10 o'clock and that he took her to Laguna Beach.

The Long Beach man said the woman was highly nervous and seemed weary from loss of sleep. She said she was broke and was hitch-hiking to San Diego, Preverchan told Los Angeles officers.

Chief of Police Abe Johnson of Laguna Beach and Deputy Sheriffiffs Ellis and Nicholson conducted a search for the woman last night but were unable to locate any one who had seen her.

Los Angeles officers have asked border officers to watch for Mrs. Judd on the theory that she will attempt to escape into Mexico.

The Long Beach man gave the following description of the missing woman: Five feet, six inches tall; 27 years old; weight, 125 pounds; blue eyes; light complexion; brown, long bobbed hair; wearing black and white dress, black hat, black kid gloves and with black purse; bruise under right eye.

ventor were gathered in the large transverse hall. To them, by means of the microphone and loud speaker to which Edison contributed his inventive genius, were carried the words of the Rev. Dr. Stephen Herbin, once Mrs. Edison's pastor, as he spoke from beside the body of his old friend.

A second wire carried the sounds of the service to the family servants grouped outside the house. As the guests took their seats, the strains of "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen," followed by "Little Gray Home in the West," sounded through the house, coming from an organ and violin in the reception room. When the last notes of these two simple songs died away, a trio from behind potted palms in the dining room, played four numbers.

Silence for a moment and the Rev. Stephen J. Herbin then read selections from the Testament. "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he die, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me, shall never die."

And again the familiar words of the 23rd psalm—"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want—" There was another pause, and then:

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful."

There came a short prayer by Dr. Herbin. Then came another brief pause and the famous tribute once paid to the great inventor by Arthur J. Palmer was read by Dr. Lewis Perry.

"He has led no armies into battle," it said. "He has conquered no countries — he has enslaved no peoples. Yet, he wields a power the magnitude of which no warrior ever dreamed. He commands a devotion more sweeping in scope, more world-wide than any other living man—a devotion, rooted deep in human gratitude, and untainted by bias of race, color, religion or politics."

Dr. Perry read a brief prayer, ending with the word, "May he live on in hallowed memory, forever, honored, and forever loved."

A poem by Alice Marston Seaman, of Winthrop, written upon the occasion of Edison's death, saved that as the guests, many of them wet-eyed, stirred and rose to go, the sweetly impressive strains of "Now the Day Is Over," came from the organ.

At the gates of Llewellyn park where scores of mounted officers sat erect and saluted as the funeral procession passed on its way to Glendale cemetery, were gathered thousands of townspeople, massed bare-headed in the sunshine to pay their last affectionate tribute to him. At the cemetery, where all except the mourning party were excluded, was another contingent of mounted police, holding in check the throngs.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

As you look back, it seems as though your happiness was but a dream-picture of moments, while the aching anguish which you now feel stretches on interminably.

For the present you are a creature of time and subject to its laws. Your loneliness and longing will not become less poignant, but you will become conscious increasingly of the nearness of the one you love and of the certainty of the reunion which is to be.

Do not despair. Keep bravely on. Give yourself time.

REFUTES CLAIM BEER IS AID TO PROSPERITY

The claim of John J. Raskob, Al Smith's right hand man in the Democratic party, that a return of beer would put millions of men to work, was refuted here by Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, chairman of the Prohibition National committee of New York City. In an address before the Brotherhood of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, Monday night.

Dr. Colvin declared that at the most a return of beer would put 70,000 men to work. On the other side of the picture, however, he said that since prohibition there has been an enormous increase in the consumption of milk and other food products and that the workers given employment through this increase would more than offset in number those whom a return of beer would employ.

The speaker traced the history of the prohibition campaign from the beginning, stressing particularly the deplorable conditions in both the United States and Canada in the saloon days.

"Thomas Edison was one of the most ardent prohibitionists I ever met," the speaker declared. "Mr. Edison described the contrast in conditions of the families of factory employees before prohibition and since. 'Before prohibition the wives of the employees would gather at the gates of the factory on pay days in order to get some of the husbands' wages before the money was squandered in the nearby saloon. Since prohibition we don't have this any more.'"

COURT ACTION TO FIX VALUE LOST APPETITE

Wanted, an expert appraiser of appetites.

Those trying a damage suit filed in superior court here yesterday may feel like broadcasting such an appeal when they get to the point of determining the amount of damages, if any, due Marjorie E. Hoff, 14, 903 West Bishop street, for loss of her appetite after she was injured in an automobile accident on April 7 at Cypress avenue and Chestnut street.

Marjorie asked for $15,500 to repay her for her loss of interest in food and for other injuries, which included the loss of almost all the skin off her back and a double fracture of the pelvis. She also lost one half year in school.

The accident happened when the car in which the plaintiff was riding was struck by a machine driven by L. F. Gay, which was the property of Lena Wickwire, according to the complaint.

Mrs. Lottie Hoff, Marjorie's mother, also was in the car and was injured internally and received a cut on the right arm. In a separate suit she asked $2050 damages.

Marjorie's suit was filed through her father and guard ad litem, Charles E. Hoff.

Chest Workers in Final Effort To Complete Budget

Sixty-two community leaders were working determinedly today to complete the Santa Ana Community Chest quota. When the last report was made the group set out to complete the quota by raising $8000. At a meeting on Monday the workers voted unanimously to carry on the work to a successful conclusion.

J. P. Baumgartner, president of the Commercial National bank, J. F. Burke and W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank, spoke to the gathering in support of the campaign, urging that every effort be made to "put the city over the top."

A report on progress made in the cleanup campaign will be made at a meeting scheduled for the Chest headquarters at 4 p. m. today.

SARGENT CLEARED OF ARSON CHARGE

Insufficient evidence in the case against Lyman Sargent, employee of the city street department, charged with arson, caused the case to be dismissed by Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday afternoon, at the conclusion of the preliminary examination.

Sargent was charged with setting fire to his parents' home on the road between Santa Ana and Anaheim on the night of June 28, 1930. Fire Marshals claimed that the house was fired to cover up parties which Sargent had staged there during the absence of his parents who were in Alaska at the time.

Sargent was arrested several weeks ago in connection with the fire, after numerous Santa Anans had been questioned by fire authorities.

PREMIER LAVAL TO BROADCAST AT SEA

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(UP)—From 100 miles at sea Premier Pierre Laval of France tonight will broadcast greeting to the United States over the radio in the first attempt of a broadcast at sea.

As the Ile de France, bringing the French premier for important conferences with President Hoover, steams towards port the national Broadcasting company will attempt a hookup from the giant liner so that Laval and his daughter, Mlle. Josette, may bid greeting to America.

The premier does not speak English. His broadcast will be in French and there will be a rebroadcast of the translation by Ralph Heinzen, manager of the Paris office of the United Press. Mlle. Josette is expected to speak in English.

CLEMENTE WOMAN SUES FOR $24,000

Ida B. Von Haaren, formerly employed in the office of Thomas Murphy at San Clemente, was plaintiff in a $24,000 damage suit against the Santa Ana Commercial company which was being tried today before Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

The plaintiff was injured in an accident in which her car and one of the defendant's trucks were involved on September 26, 1930, at the intersection of Trafalgar road and state highway 101.

The complaint said that before the accident the plaintiff was able to earn $150 a month but that since the crash she has earned much less. Murphy testified today in support of this claim, saying that after the accident the plaintiff was given employment at Los Angeles and that she earned about $90 a month.

Injuries to the plaintiff included concussion of the brain and injury to her right arm and shoulder.

LIGHT DISPLAY APPROVED BY BUSINESS MEN

Whether to decorate the main business streets of Santa Ana with fir trees and colored lights for the festive Christmas season, as has been done for the past two years, is a question that will be submitted to the Santa Ana merchants, it was decided by the directors of the Santa Ana Business Men's association at the monthly meeting held last night in the association offices.

A committee composed of one business man selected from each block along the route proposed to be decorated is to be appointed by Herbert Rankin, president of the association, to make the survey.

The directors went on record as favoring the plan and recommending its acceptance as a measure especially desirable in these times to help brighten the Christmas season and create a consciousness of the period.

If the proposed plan is approved by the merchants, the trees will be placed on the city light posts during the month from November 23 to December 23. The district suggested is the same as that for last year from First to Fifth streets along Broadway and Sycamore, from Second to Eighth streets along Main, and from Ross to Spurgeon streets along Fourth street.

The Christmas street lighting last year brought favorable comments from many sources. It was stated by R. E. Ruddy, secretary of the Business Men's association.

During the past week, the directors of the association have been holding conferences with the city electrical contractors on the cost of the decorations. All the expenditures for materials and labor will be distributed in Santa Ana, Ruddy declared. The survey of the merchants will be completed within the next two weeks.

DEMANDS $5000

Z. Andy was seeking $5000 from A. Martel, of Talbert, in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court today, the case being based on the claim that Martel maliciously caused Andy to be prosecuted for the ascertained theft of 20 bags valued at $250, a charge which was dropped after preliminary examination before Justice Kenneth E. Morrison here.

CARRY PARADE INVITATION TO COUNTY POSTS

Short talks on the plans for the annual Armistice day parade in Santa Ana November 11 were delivered to members of the Placitas and Brea American Legion posts last night by area and county council representatives who accompanied the Santa Ana drum and bugle corps on the visitation trips.

George Franzen, of Orange, area commander, Donald Jones, of Fullerton, county council commander, Glen Young, of Tustin, county council vice commander and Franklin F. West, past commander of the Santa Ana Legion post, all spoke.

Speakers pointed out that the theme for the Armistice parade was the Olympic games of 1932. The Olympic committee has arranged for pictures to be taken by news reels for showing over the world as publicity for the games, it was said. The communities with floats in the parade will benefit considerably from the publicity, according to the speakers.

Santa Ana's crack bugle corps, led by Eddy Couron, will pay a "good will" visit to the Garden Grove and the Seal Beach posts next Wednesday night. On November 2, the corps will go to Anaheim and La Habra, according to arrangements made by Judge J. B. Tucker, chairman of the visitation committee.

Press Body To Discuss Water

When the Orange County Press association meets at McFarland's cafe in Fullerton next Friday there will be discussion of several important matters including water problems and the flood control program now before the county supervisors, the county advertising fund and a report by the Greater Orange County committee headed by Bruce Crandall, of Laguna Beach. The meeting has been called by Bruce Phillips, of Brea, president of the organization.

The group also will consider a mass meeting desired by the Orange County Tourists' association to stimulate interest in bringing tourists to this section.

Local Briefs

Members of the Congregational church of Santa Ana are planning to attend the ordination of Donald E. Gaylord, son of Dr. E. D. Gaylord, superintendent of the conference, which will be held at the Brea Congregational church. Gaylord is the new pastor of the Brea church. He was examined for the ministry last week by the Los Angeles association of Congregational churches and ministers.

FEW REGISTER IN EFFORT TO ASSURE JOBS

If there is any influx of workmen to Orange county with a view to securing work on the Colorado river aqueduct, there is but slight evidence of it on the voters' registration lists kept by County Clerk J. M. Backs—and the Metropolitan Water district requires that all its employees must be registered voters, it is learned.

Backs said today that not more than 10 persons have registered with him since the aqueduct bonds were voted on September 23, who would fall within this class. Perhaps 10 more have verified their registration here with a view to applying to work on the aqueduct, he estimated.

This does not mean that not more than this number have registered, but that only this number have done so with a view to obtaining aqueduct work, he pointed out.

Registration will continue until the close of this year, when a new biennial registration will commence, everyone being required to register again in putting the new permanent registration system into effect.

Better demand for money throughout the nation was given as the reason for the increase.

PLAN TO MAKE DANCE HALL OF BURGE HOUSE

Two applications for dance hall licenses one for the former residence of E. D. Burge on East First street and the other for the old Bear Cafe near Westminster were before the county board of supervisors yesterday but both were continued.

The Bear cafe application has been before the board before and owing to the fact that there are no outside windows low enough to make the dance floor visible from the exterior, the permit has not been granted. The matter was continued for one week.

A Los Angeles group has applied for a license to operate a dance hall in the place formerly owned by Burge. Sheriff Logan Jackson yesterday told the board that it would take two and possibly three days of investigation by one of his deputies before his office would be able to make a recommendation on the question. At the suggestion of the board the investigation will be deferred pending the return of Supervisor George Jeffrey, in whose district the building is located, and who at present is on a trip to the South Seas.

DISMISSAL OF DAMAGE CASE BEING ARGUED

Following a settlement with two defendants, for $1300, arguments were under way before Superior Judge James L. Allen for dismissal of the case against a third in the $25,550 damage suit based on injuries suffered by Esther Coy, 19, of Santa Ana, in an automobile accident on May 8 at the intersection of Highland street and South Broadway. The question of dismissal as to the third defendant, Dale Deckert, of Santa Ana, was submitted to the court.

The complaint said Miss Coy was riding in Deckert's car with him and that it and a car driven by Robert Hatfield, of Fullerton, collided, Hatfield having been driving a car belonging to Samuel Kraemer of Placentia. The settlement was made with Hatfield and Kraemer.

Lon Brooks, Los Angeles attorney representing Deckert and his insurance company, argued that the settlement has compensated Miss Coy and that therefore his client should be dismissed. B. Z. McKinney, representing Miss Coy, took the opposite stand.

PROBLEMS OF NATION TO BE BROWN TOPIC

Business men of Santa Ana are looking forward to the membership meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce scheduled for 6:30 p. m. tonight at Santa Ana cafe. This meeting will bring Colvin K. Brown said to be probably the best informed man in the United States on financial and economic problems, to this city for a discussion of present conditions.

Coming here as honor guest and principal speaker at the dinner to-night Brown is planning to center his address around President Hoover's financial program and the nation's unemployment problem and its solution.

In discussing Hoover's financial program Brown will outline the part being played by the United States Chamber of Commerce in the scheme as well as steps being taken by the organization in preparing a program of relief.

Brown, who as manager of the organization department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will present a cross section of the nation's business and what steps are being taken to bring order out of what might be termed economic chaos.

WILL REPEAT PERFORMANCE OF 'THE FOOL'

So splendid was the production of Channing Pollock's great four-act play, "The Fool," given last Thursday evening in the high school auditorium, that a return performance will be given again Thursday evening of this week in the same place, according to Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Santa Ana, the sponsor of the show.

Dr. Warner has issued a number of tickets to every Methodist minister in the county to attend "The Fool," and states that a return engagement was necessary because of the numerous events on various social programs last week. Directed by Willis DeuFree Billings, former U. S. C. scholarship student in the School of Speech, "The Fool" is particularly adapted to production by a group of young players and is of especial interest during the present financial straits because it presents what some believe to be the satisfactory answer to the question of capital and labor.

The cast is composed of a group of players from the Young People's department of the church. Following this week's production of "The Fool," the players will journey to San Diego where they are booked to play the Roosevelt Junior High school auditorium on November 7, under the auspices of the Park Boulevard M. E. church, and November 14 has been set as the production date at the Church of All Nations in Los Angeles.

DAMAGES OF $1000 AWARDED BY JURY

Daniel D. Dakovich and Bessie Dakovich, of Garden Grove, yesterday were awarded $1000 damages against C. M. Whiting, Long Beach, at the conclusion of their $36,300 suit against him, which was tried before a jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court and which was based on an automobile accident in which the plaintiffs were injured. They testified that Whiting's car collided with their automobile at Magnolia road and Claire avenue on October 11, 1930.

The jury retired at 10:07 a. m. yesterday and returned its verdict at 2:47 p. m. Whiting claimed contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiffs was a partial cause of the accident.

Court Notes

On a change of venue from San Diego county, the superior court of Orange county is scheduled to hear the divorce action brought against Frank C. Winans by Eileen P. Winans, 19, through her guardian ad litem, Margaret Kasper. The complaint charged Winans with failure to provide and cruelty. The couple married at Yuma, Ariz., on September 22, 1930 and separated on January 28, 1931, the complaint said.

G. W. Rolfe has brought suit against Samuel D. Rule, seeking to foreclose a mortgage on property in Orange county securing a promissory note for $572.

Alice Scheel has brought suit against Mary C. McGuire, J. W. McCormack and Helen J. Meyer, seeking to foreclose a mortgage on Santa Ana property securing a $1400 promissory note.

C. E. RUTLEDGE TO WORK WITH HOOVER GROUP

Word was received here today of the appointment of C. E. Rutledge, president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, as a member of President Hoover's National Unemployment Relief committee. Word of Rutledge's appointment was received by George A. Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Under Hoover's plan the national group will function under sectional leaders who will appoint state directors. The states are divided again into sections and these sections into counties with committees representing each county. John C. Austin, of Los Angeles, has been named representative of the Southern California counties and in turn appointed Rutledge to represent Orange county on the national committee.

A meeting of all county representatives has been called for Monday noon in Los Angeles at which time plans for beginning active work will be formulated. Each county committee will be informed of the part his district is to play in the relief program and preparations made for co-operation with city relief groups functioning in the various communities.

A survey of the local unemployment situation was made yesterday by C. K. Warner, representing the Pacific coast states on Hoover's committee. Warner is making a tour of the coast, visiting every community with a population of 25,000 or more people and checking on the unemployment situation and what steps for relief are being taken. With this data Warner will be prepared to go before the national group with an accurate picture of unemployment conditions in the west.

IRVINE REQUESTS DREDGING PERMIT

The board of supervisors yesterday indicated its willingness to grant the Irvine company permission to dredge the channel in Newport bay below the new state highway bridge now under construction and to put the material on thus deepening the channel about its lands on either side of the bay, 10 feet in that area and filling in low lands on the shore which are a possible breeding ground for mosquitoes.

James Irvine, Jr., made a verbal application and will have a written one before the board next week.

He said the dredging, to be done by Sparks and McClellan, of Newport Beach, would remove about 200,000 yards of mud from the bay, also eliminating some of the mud flats along the shores.

Jury Disagrees In Big Damage Suit

Neither party recovered judgment in the damage suit tried before a jury in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court in which Frank and Julia Hess, of Silver Acres, sought $20,370 from George M. Smith and Alice Smith, of Torba Linda, as a result of an automobile accident in which Mrs. Hess was injured. The jury reported last night and when it was polled, two members disagreed with the decision.

The accident happened at the intersection of Richfield road and Buena Vista street on December 25, 1930.

Hammond, principal of the Santa Ana High school and president of the junior college, will attend a meeting of the educational advisory committee of the California Taxpayers' association to be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Subway Terminal building, Los Angeles. At this session a preliminary report on the comparative cost of educating students in junior colleges and universities will be discussed. Dr. Davis and Hammond are members of the advisory committee.

THREE FINED $700 ON LIQUOR CHARGES HERE

Three persons were fined a total of $700 in the city police court yesterday on liquor possession charges following raids conducted by the Santa Ana police department Monday night.

Mrs. Dominga A. Carlon and A. Martinez each were fined $300 and Juan Charres was given a $100 fine.

More than 500 bottles of beer were found at the homes of the Carlon woman and Charres. Three gallons of whiskey were reported found in the home of Martinez. The police department added another liquor possession case to its list of this week's activities last night with the arrest of Frank Medina, of 913 East Walnut street. A search of his premises revealed five cases of beer and 15 gallons of beer which was just being manufactured, officers reported.

Officers Murrillo, McWilliams, Moulton and Steward conducted the raid. Medina will be given a hearing in police court today.

MISSION GROUP OF CHURCH HAS LIVELY PARTY

Special From Anaheim
The Girls' Missionary society of the White Temple Methodist Episcopal church had a gay time Monday evening at the home of Mrs. F. R. Coate on Placentia and Olive roads. Mrs. Coate is the advisor for the group.

The party carried out the Halloween spirit in its entirety with games, decorations and refreshments.

Jack o'Lanterns, an open fireplace, and orange and black decorations lent color and charm to the festive occasion.

The evening was merry with games which pertained to the cheery season. Miss Ruth Shaver won an appropriate gift for her part in the evening's entertainment by doing a number of clever stunts.

Big red apples were hailed with merriment and the game of counting seeds proved popular.

Light refreshments were served before the fireplace around which the party had been gathered while they toasted marshmallows and drank orange juice.

SALEM CHURCH CONGREGATION TO HOLD MEET

Special from Anaheim
The regular quarterly business meeting of Salem Evangelical church will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the bungalow of the church. District Superintendent Rev. A. J. Boelter of Los Angeles will conduct the business session and address the meeting.

On the same evening the Ladies' Aid will hold a benefit cafeteria supper beginning at 5:30 o'clock and lasting until 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. S. F. Women's Missionary society members are planning to attend an all-day meeting of the societies of the county to be held in Santa Ana Evangelical church Thursday forenoon and afternoon beginning at 10 o'clock.

FAMOUS STAR IN TRIUMPHAL SCREEN RETURN

Special from Anaheim
Clara Kimball Young, one-time premier star of the silent screen, is making a triumphal return to pictures in her first all-talking starring vehicle, the James Cruze production for Tiffany Productions, Inc., "Women Go on Forever," which opens a two-day run at the Fairland theater tonight.

In line with his policy of offering the public double feature bills with both pictures headliners, Manager Earl Yonker has secured the famous picture, "Daddy Long Legs," starring Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter, to run in conjunction with "Women Go on Forever."

Miss Young's return is looked upon with keen interest by everyone in and out of the motion picture industry, for she is an outstanding example of the fact that many stars of the silent screen are coming into their own again.

In 1912 Miss Young was a stellar player at the Flatbush studios of the old Vitaphone company and remained a star until 1923 when she deserted the screen to go back on the stage. She made her last silent picture in 1925.

On the stage since she became 17, she was well known as a player before she entered her picture career. A wide experience in stock companies playing practically every city in the United States fitted her for work before the camera. The knowledge of lines and delivery now makes her a formidable contender for top honors in talking pictures.

In "Women Go on Forever" she will be seen in the role of "Daisy Bowman," originated by Mary Boland during the Broadway run of the Daniel N. Rubin play of the same name.

Hits Hate And Fear In Club Speech

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Hate, fear and worry are the causes of many diseases, declared Dr. Joseph Jasin, psychologist who entertained members and guests of the Orange Woman's club last night with a program.

Dr. Jasin told briefly how emotional and nervous strain affects the human body and mind and how these causes can often be removed.

Darkened rooms produce a psychological effect and attunes them to an acceptance of the supernatural, said Dr. Jasin as he proceeded to perform baffling tricks in mind reading and slate writing on a brightly lighted stage. A number of the devices he used were explained.

"In order to live properly, we must learn to think properly," said the psychologist in closing his program.

Members of the audience asked questions ranging from where they might find lost horses, trinkets and papers to the more serious matters of life, the program extending nearly an hour beyond the time set.

A silent tribute was paid to three members who recently passed away, Mrs. D. C. Drake, Mrs. Laura B. McCoy and Mrs. G. W. Ingle. The short ceremony was conducted by the president, Mrs. David G. Wetlin, in a few beautifully chosen words.

Mrs. Irving Goldfeder stressed the fact that hostesses were asked to turn into the club the names of guests at vanishing luncheons. She said that $125 had been added to the club treasury from the luncheons.

EQUALIZATION FEE TOPIC OF FARM CENTER

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—Over 100 were in attendance at the annual meeting of the West Orange Farm center at the American Legion hall last night. B. C. Bradford, president, called the meeting to order. A. F. Schroeder gave a report on the white fly pest and the shipping and marketing of citrus fruits and walnuts.

Schroeder declared that at the present time the purple scale was more of a problem than the white fly which, it was felt, could be controlled without great trouble.

The first speaker of the evening was J. A. Smiley, state director. The subject presented by Smiley was, "Will the Equalization Fee Aid the Citrus Industry?" The aid to home growers as well as the foreign producer was presented under the equalization fee system. The handling of the surplus crop production to make a complete clean-up each year was explained.

C. C. Hillis, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, was called on by Smiley and gave a brief talk on the subject under discussion and the exporting into foreign countries. R. E. Gross, manager of the Santiago Orange Growers' association, said that the problems of each industry was best met and solved by the individual industry concerned.

John W. Crill, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, spoke on the subject of the equalization fee and the meeting of association October 19 at Merced, where plans will be offered and decisions made.

A motion was made by A. F. Schroeder, that the citrus department of Orange County Farm bureau be requested to follow up the proposed orchard heater ordinance and do all things possible to prevent the enactment of an unreasonable ordinance. The motion carried.

The plans were told by Mrs. Irving Goldfeder, who is president of the club garden section.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. H. Heim and Mrs. Henry P. Campbell, who presided at the attractively appointed tea table. The delicious sugar cookies served with the tea were made by Miss Sue Scarrit.

OLYMPIC GAMES OUTLINED FOR ORANGE GROUP

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—A picture of the Olympic games based on experience was presented to members of the Orange Men's club Monday night at the first meeting of the year in the Trinity church parish hall, with M. M. Fishback, newly elected president presiding and Charles Paddock, Olympic hero, as speaker.

The "inside" facts regarding the games were revealed during the course of Paddock's talk which was of great interest owing to the fact that Los Angeles has been chosen as the city for the Olympics next year, when 16 days of games will take place in Long Beach, Santa Monica and Los Angeles. Paddock traced the history of the games which he said began in Athens 2000 years ago and which were revived in 1892.

Intimate details of the lives of the runner, Paavo Nurmi, and other Olympic heroes were told by Paddock. One of the most pertinent things told by the speaker was of the work being done in Germany to build up the physical well being of the children and young people of the nation, who at the close of the war, he said, were found to be undernourished.

There are more playgrounds near Berlin at the present time, Paddock declared, than can be found near New York City and in the New England states. This is a part of the German physical education program to build up the whole nation, Paddock said. Germany has never played before, said the speaker, as he predicted that in 1936 that German nation might be the winners of the Olympic games, which are to be held in Berlin.

Fred Kelly, hurdler of the Orange Union High school, was the first Southern Californian to win an Olympic event, Paddock said, and the Orange Union High school furnished another winner in James Workman, member of the champion rowing crew of 1928, who competed at Amsterdam.

Dr. J. J. Parsons, president of the Men's club of Monrovia, was introduced by the Rev. J. Alvin Shirley, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church, as was Kenneth Bear, T. C. Foster, James Donegan, Frank Mead and Dr. W. M. Tipple.

NEW ORCHESTRA TO MAKE DEBUT ON RADIO KREG

At 7:30 o'clock tonight a new orchestral organization will make its debut over station KREG with a 30-minute, fast moving program of entertainment featuring popular and semi-classical numbers. The organization, a five-piece orchestra, is known as Paul Graham and His KREG Higraders and present orchestra and vocal numbers.

Characteristic numbers to be presented by the Higraders are "Gypsy Sweetheart," and new arrangements of "Some of These Days," "It's The Girl," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by the novelty string orchestra and trio vocal chorus.

The Graham brothers, known as "The Two Wiscrackers," Paul and Mayo, will also be featured in a dialogue skit. In addition to the Higraders Graham has announced an additional feature to be presented. A surprise guest artist from Chicago will present novelty numbers and piano and vocal offerings.

The Higraders is composed of talented artists who are well known in vaudeville and musical circles. Paul Graham is a well-known radio and vaudeville headliner, plays the trombone and guitar and sings bass in the trio.

Johnny Oliver, tenor, plays saxophone in the orchestra doubling on the steel guitar and ukulele-banjo. Oliver is from New York where he filled several recent engagements.

Bill Haynes, pianist, has been touring the world for the past five years with his own band playing on the S. S. President Harrison. He has made five world cruises on that boat in addition to other engagements.

Lawrence Portugal, who sings leads in the trio and plays banjo and guitar is from Mexico City where he is well known as an entertainer.

Harry Vaut, recently with the Deauville Beach Club orchestra, Santa Monica plays the bass violin, sousaphone and violin in addition to singing.

This program will be well worth listening to as it brings together a group of entertainers who are all headliners in one of the snappiest programs that has been offered in many weeks.

ADULT EDUCATION FEATURE TONIGHT

Under direction of Mrs. Golden Weston another Adult Education Program will be broadcast over station KREG tonight from 8:30 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Edith Ritter, principal of the Fremont Night School will present an orchestra composed of students in the school who will play several selections during the 30 minute period. Other musical features to be introduced will be Senor Vidal Santana, playing his guitar and singing several selections and Senor Hernandez playing the piano accordion.

The weekly health talk will be given by Mrs. A. T. Bethencourt who has done outstanding work among the Spanish people.

VALUABLE PRIZE FOR 'STICKERS'

Another "sticker" program by Art Cannon, studio pianist is scheduled for tonight from 7 until 7:30 p.m. and a valuable prize from Woodruff-Granas Jewelers awaits the first radio listener who requests a number that he cannot play.

Last week there were 64 requests telephoned in to the studio during the time Cannon was on the air. This number set a new high mark but studio officials expect to shatter the mark previously set as each week has seen an increased interest in the attempt to stick Cannon.

KREG NOTES

Studio officials received a letter today from T. A. Culver of Boulder Colo., in which he said that on Friday night he tuned in this station and that the program came in "loud and clear." This report was verified by studio officials.

The National Harmony Boys are winning considerable popularity with their programs over this station and are now playing on the Shoppers' Guide program. Tune in on this period from 1 to 1:30 p.m. and 5 to 5:30 p.m. each day for important information for the housewife and careful shopper.

RADIO FEATURES

Honoring the memory of Thomas Edison, a special performance of Beethoven's great "Eroica Symphony" by the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Serge Koussevitzky will be broadcast over combined NBC coast-to-coast networks tomorrow afternoon, between 1 and 2 o'clock, Pacific time.

SANTA ANA PLAY ANAHEIM NOVEMBER 11

Coach Cook Fights Terrific Don 'Letdown'

COLLEGE SQUAD STALE: CONKEY PUT AT TACKLE

Fearful of what will happen here Saturday if his men continue to practice with the same mental attitude shown during drill Monday and Tuesday, Coach Bill Cook of Santa Ana junior college was face to face today with one of the most dreaded of football problems, that of finding a suitable remedy for a general let-down that followed last week's Compton disaster.

Three years ago, when this same situation existed, the Don mentor ordered his men to abandon practice for two days. The desired results were obtained in 1928, but with just three more scrimmages to go before they lock horns with Pasadena, a strong contender for the conference title, the Dons apparently must snap out of it in another way.

Monday's practice carried little benefit; yesterday's carried none at all, with the exception of that in Lucius Conkey, regular end, the Don mentor found what he believes to be a suitable replacement at tackle for Captain Mike Santa Cruz, who injured his ankle in the Compton tilt and will be out of the game several weeks.

Conkey filled in at tackle during his prep days at Tustin, and after a few drills at his new position, Santa Ana's regular right end should make a good partner for Harry Clayton, husky left tackle. The removal of Conkey from end to tackle means that Hideo Higashi, brilliant backfield ace, must turn his attention to a wing position unless Hubert Armstrong, transfer from the University of California who is still having eligibility difficulties, becomes eligible by Saturday. Outside of Higashi, Armstrong is the only candidate capable of holding down an end post. Fred Brooks, Harold Spangler and Clark Weatherly show streaks of brilliance at times, but not one of the three has shown starting ability.

It looks as if Higashi will be on the line until George Berry, end who was playing regularly until he suffered a severe shoulder injury, gets back to his former condition. Berry was placed in the Compton game Saturday but his injury prevented his staying in more than three plays.

Higashi's removal to the line greatly weakens the Don backfield. Although Dante Siracusa, and Doyle Gilbert are heads-up quarterbacks, neither has reached Higashi's ability. "Gib" Meisinger, center, who used to play end for Coach "Tex" Oliver's Santa varsity, may be shifted to a wing position in order that Higashi may see at least part action at quarter.

Jack O'Mara, former Point Loma high school halfback, has been showing fire aplenty since he reported last week and should be in readiness to play against Pasadena.

They call Ray Dawson "Swede" at Stanford. . . He and "Chuck" Ehrhorn and Jim Musick have been tentatively selected to play for the West against the East in the Olympic games football "demonstration." . . By the way, where are the experts who had Musick on the bench and Erny Pinckert playing fullback for S. C. this year?

During the last quarter of the Santa Ana-San Diego game, King Hall, 210-pound Hilltop captain, was quite disconsolate. He thought he saw San Diego's championship sliding right out from under him. Francis Conrad, the Saints' fiery little quarterback walked over to the giant Hall, looked up at him, said, "We're pretty tough, huh Hall?" Giant Hall looked sheepish, patted the turf with his cleats, replied sullenly: "Well, we're tough sometimes, too."

High school officials have abbreviated their basketball program for this winter. That's a break for Santa Ana, the Cincinnati Reds of the cage sport. Now the Saints can take their fixings in a bunch and get 'em over with.

Three Church league basketball games, all open to the public, will be run off in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tonight.

Baptists and Latter Day Saints meet at 7 o'clock, Costa Mesa Community and the Orange Avenue Christians at 8, and United Presbyterians and United Brethren at 9.

WILLARD TIES BREA IN LAST MINUTE RALLY

Frances Willard junior high school "varsity" tied its first football game of the season with the Brea-Olinda high school Class B gridders, 12 to 12, on the new Willard grounds yesterday.

The Indians made their first touchdown in the first five minutes of play after Bruce Swishnick reeled off two long runs and Clark smashed through the line for the score.

No more scores were made until the third quarter when Zebe, Brea halfback, ran around right end and with excellent interference crossed the goal standing up. Again the Brea team failed to convert but it looked like their game anyway.

Then the thing that makes football games interesting happened. Just about 30 seconds before the timekeeper fired the gun, Willard's Willard's flashy half, snatched a long pass and ran 85 yards to cross the goal and tied the score.

BEARS, TROJANS FEATURE COAST GRID SCHEDULE

By ALANSON W. EDWARDS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Riding the crest of top-heavy victory, the Trojans of Southern California will renew their ancient gridiron rivalry with the Bears of the University of California in the first of this year's "big games" at Berkeley Memorial stadium Saturday.

California's unpleasant memory of an overwhelming defeat in the U. C.-U. S. C. game last year brought the feud to where it outshone in public attention all other coast engagements for the week end—and these include the Stanford-Washington game at Seattle.

The omens of good fortune and a pair of plunging backs named Mohler and Shaver doubtless will carry off the honors of the day for S. C., but the hard pressed Bears vow it will not be by any such score as the 74-0 holocaust registered last year.

Trojan Regulars Ready
Even in the matter of injuries, luck favored Troy. All of their men—Pinckert, Arbelide, Williamson, Musick and the others of the thundering herd—are on deck ready for the fray. But at California, "Navy Bill" Ingram struggles along without Henry Schindler, Joe Cattolica and Louis di Resta, his star backs, who are on the injured list.

True, Southern California lost its opening game to St. Mary's, but the Gaels also were triumphant over California and by a better score. The only other team to play both was Washington State. The Trojans defeated the Cougars, 13 to 6, and California won by 38 to 7. So there you are.

As for the Washington-Stanford contest, the Cardinals and their mystery men seem to hold the upper hand. Unbeaten and tied but once, the Cards are ahead if statistics are any good, which often they are not. Glenn (Pop) Warner has never put his first team in for an entire game, and in consequence the experts have been unable to put a price tag on his men. The proven worth of Warner's "shock troops," however, make the Palo Altoans favorites.

Oregon Plays North Dakota
The Oregon team, smarting under a lacing handed them last week by the Trojans with a score running into the 50's, will vent their animus on North Dakota in an inter-sectional game at Grand Forks.

The 1930 champion Cougars from Washington State ought to win their game with Montana at Missoula, despite their misfortunes against the stronger conference aggregations. Orin Hollingsberry's men have fought well against heavy odds this season, but it just happens to be someone else's time to win.

University of California at Los Angeles held Northwestern to 13-0 in Evanston last week and a quiet day of rest out in the country before their traditional battle Saturday with the University of California at Berkeley eleven, the Trojans of the University of Southern California will leave here tomorrow at 7:45 p. m. for their northern invasion.

Upon the arrival of the Southern Pacific Trojan special Friday at 8 a. m. at San Jose, the players will be taken by bus to the Oakland Country club, a peaceful spot some 30 miles from Oakland where over-enthusiastic alumni and friends will want 50-yard line tickets will not be able to reach them.

According to Coach Jones, no formal workout will be held Friday although the Boys will do a little limbering up on the Castlemore golf course. The official varsity squad going north will be made up of approximately 35 men, although all subs and Spartans will be taken along Friday as a reward for their labors in behalf of the Trojan cause. The football party will leave for home at 5:30 p. m. Saturday from the Oakland pier, arriving back in Los Angeles at 8 a. m. Sunday.

While their big brothers are meeting the California varsity at Berkeley, the University of Southern California freshmen will tangle with Stanford university's yearlings in what will be the feature game of the day at the Los Angeles Coliseum

Saturday beginning at 2:30 p. m. Both the Stanford frosh and the Trojans have suffered defeats at the hands of opponents this season and will enter the game on even terms. While Coach Jones' Santa Ana and Chaffey junior colleges, teams representing Compton while college and California have gathered wins over the Trojan freshmen to break a three year record without a defeat.

If the University of New Mexico attempts to use any "ringers" in its football game with Occidental college at Albuquerque next Saturday, Oxy will use only its second team, regardless of who wins or loses.

This ultimatum was handed out today by Graduate Manager Phil Ellsworth of Occidental when he said he had been informed that five former players from Haskell Institute, including "Buster" Charles, all-around athlete, were playing for the Lobos.

Although the Indians were listed as transfers from Haskell junior college, Ellsworth claimed that all of them had played at least four years for Haskell.

Occidental claims the game was to have been played under Coast conference rules. If it is not, the Tigers say they will not break their backs to win it.

Coach Eddie Keinholtz will take 25 men with him to Albuquerque, leaving Thursday afternoon.

Hooks and Slides GARRULOUS GRUBE GANGED

A touch of good, old-fashioned "flying wedge" football was inserted in the Chicago city series which annually determines whether the Cubs or Sox are the worst players in the Windy City. I refer to the gangling of garrulous Grube, White Sox catcher, in the sixth game.

Grube happens to be a spirited young man, retaining much of the fight that made him a pretty fair football player in his Lafayette days. When Umpire Hildebrand allowed Pitcher Bush to retire to first base following a fourth ball, Mr. Grube demurred. A mild protest wouldn't have cost him anything, but the kind of protest he lodged cost him a soiled uniform, a mussed countenance and early exit from the park.

I do not know what word it was that caused Hildebrand to jerk his thumb after the manner of umpires in the direction of the club house. Anyhow he jerked it, and the gesture was the signal for Grube to start for him like I imagine he used to do when an opposing halfback tried to skirt his end at Lafayette.

Hildebrand's interference formed rapidly, however, and succeeded in taking out the would-be tackler. This was not accomplished until Mike Kelly, Sox coach, had leaped aside Grube and bull-dogged him to the ground. There were some who said Kelly should have been penalized for roughing.

THAT FEUD IS THE LIMIT

Six times in the 17 Cubs-Sox series for the championship of Chicago baseball have the boys played the string to the limit of seven games. The Sox bagged the seventh and deciding game in 1912, 1914 and 1926. The Cubs snatched an edge in the seventh game in the series of 1923 and 1928. The Sox have a decided edge in city championships.

There is something about this annual warfare that is interesting. It doesn't seem to matter that both are not first division teams. The pre-series underdog frequently comes out on top with a display of unbelievable fighting spirit. The fandom, too, is always just as bitterly divided over the issue.

IN MEMORY OF

The booklet that came to me by mail the other day will not be sent back. It was an attractive booklet, with words and pictures within its cover. Its pages were deckle edged buff laid book paper, bound in gray cloth.

In the front were statements by Herbert Hoover, president, and the man who preceded him in the White House, Calvin Coolidge, attesting to the character, sportsmanship and teachings of a departed athletic figure. On the opposite page was a biographical

SCRIBE THINKS KLEIN DESERVED PLAYER PRIZE

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(UP)—A week or so ago I up and promised myself not to mention baseball again until next spring no matter if Babe Ruth was traded to the Reds for a bow-legged shortstop and "Lefty" Grove quit the game cold to head a beaded bag works.

But along came the Baseball Writers' association's nomination of Frankie Frisch as the "most valuable" to his team of all the players in the National league, and my promise had to go overboard.

For, pals and gals, I don't think Frisch rates the job.

Now please don't take this to mean I think Frisch is anything but a very elegant second baseman. For he is. He's especially handy when the stakes are high and the going tough.

Cards Didn't Need Frisch
But my theme song is that the Cards would have won the pennant with Frisch no nearer than Sioux City. Of course, having him there to do the second basing made it easier for the Red Birds, but the Cards of 1931 could have won the pennant with Joe Glutz on second.

Our choice for the job, "Chuck" Klein, ran second. Now he missed getting the nod as a mystery to me. For where, I ask you, would he Phillies have finished without Klein, ran second. Frisch? Don't be silly. They would not even have finished in the cellar, but in another league, altogether.

For Klein led the league in home runs, batted in most runs, and tied for the lead in runs scored.

As much as we like Frisch, we can think of half a dozen men we would have placed above him. "Red" Lucas, of Cincinnati, is one. "Red" won 14 games, almost one-fourth as many victories as his club scored all season. Any man capable of winning 14 games with the Reds deserves any honor you might pay him.

How About Maranville?
"Rabbit" Maranville was another valuable baby. So was Lloyd Waner of Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh finished fifth and don't let anyone tell you they would have finished that high had it not been for Lloyd's magnificent defensive work in center field.

Frisch's selection was entirely in keeping with the tradition that the "most valuable" player must come from a pennant winning club. During the years the "most valuable" business has been going on in the National only Vance in 1924, Hornsby in '25, and Wilson last year, were members of also-ran clubs. And Vance and Wilson were members of runner-up outfits.

In the American, Sisler in 1922, and Burns in '26, are the only players to have earned the recognition while playing with non-championship outfits.

Consolation Award?
Maybe the committee of eight gave Frankie the job as a sort of consolation prize.

Frisch ran third in 1924, and was runner-up in 1927 and 1930. If Frisch was superstitious he would refuse the honor, for the six men who preceded him have either flopped or gone into a partial eclipse. They are Vance (1924), Hornsby (1925), O'Farrell (1926), P. Waner (1927), Bottomley (1928), Hornsby (1929), and "Hack" Wilson (1930).

The leagues used to sponsor the "most valuable" plan, but dropped it in a hurry when the winners started asking for more dough on the strength of their selection.

SANTIAGO SHOOTERS OUTSCORE PASADENA

Santiago Rifle and Revolver club members are already looking forward to a return match with the Southern California Telephone company at Pasadena December 6, after playing at the Pole-Climbers, 664 to 631, at the Santiago range near Irvine park Sunday.

Myron Warner made high score of 138 points. Tom Scudder had 137, Brudeiler and Roy Ivins 130 and Therman Means 129. Ranges shot were 200 yards offhand, 300 yards sitting and 500 yards prone.

Thomas Scudder is president and Therman Means secretary of the Santiago club.

SCORES AGAIN

It was news last season when Dick Gentle, then captain of Pennsylvania University's football team, ran 102 yards for a touchdown against Cornell—the longest run ever seen at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. It's news this season that Gentle has married Miss Mary Tew of Washington. Here are the newlyweds at their Brookline, Mass., home.

CHANGE PLACE FOR BIG GRID REUNION HERE

So that old timers may smoke while they fondly reminisce, Santa Ana's first annual Football Reunion, scheduled for tomorrow night, will be held at Ketter's cafe, 216 West Fourth street, instead of at the Frances Willard junior high school cafeteria which is located on school property where smoking is against the state law.

Reservations continued to increase today at Victor Walker's sporting goods store, and committeemen predicted a turnout of at least a hundred former high school football players, in addition to the current 1931 crop of 50 which will be guests of honor.

Burt (Eric, the Red) Stephenson, of the Saint Immortals, now U. S. forest ranger at Descanso, telephoned here today he would come north for the fun. Stephenson, later a star at Stanford, was one of the greatest backs ever to wear Santa Ana spangles.

Dr. Clair Burkett, Los Angeles physician, an end on Santa Ana's 1914 eleven which was Southern California champion, sent word he'll be here, too.

"Benny" Wilcox and Harry LeBard reported they would represent the school's 1921 club, generally accepted as the finest ever developed here.

Among "old timers" who have made reservations are: Claude Swope, Jay Baker, Vic Walker, Burt Stephenson, Milburn Harvey, W. F. Dungan, Lester Slaback, Harry McPhee, "Bomo" Koral, Francis Norton, Harold Schuchardt, Charles Swanner, W. B. Williams, Gene Robinson, Terry Stephenson, Al Dresser, Clair Head, Raymond Marsile, Roy Head, Hal McCullough, Al Reboin, Elliott Best, Dr. G. C. Ross, "Benny" Wilcox, George and Bill Cole, A. J. McFadden, George Baker, William Spurgeon, Walter Hickey, "Oil" Hunter, Harlow Halladay, J. L. McBride, Monty McFadden, Bert West, "Jug" Walters, Jerry Heard, Kenneth Dungan, Don Crumley, Harry Dungan, Harry LeBard and "Bus" McDonald.

Scores of others are expected to make reservations for the 50-cent dinner today and tomorrow. These may be made until 5 p. m. Thursday.

Contrary to previous announcements, the Saint-Pasadena game will be played Saturday at 2:30 p. m. on the Pasadena school field off East Colorado. Originally, the game had been booked for Friday night in the Rose Bowl. These arrangements were cancelled when Rose Bowl officials demanded $250 for use of their plant.

Fullback Kidder Out of Pasadena Game
Fullback "Red" Kidder, one of the best defensive backs in recent Santa Ana high school football history, was today unofficially written out of the Saint's starting lineup against Pasadena at Pasadena Saturday afternoon.

Kidder suffered a wrenched shoulder in the San Diego game last week, and the injury has not responded to treatment as rapidly as had been hoped. Coach "Tex" Oliver is expected to hold Kidder back, as the Long Beach game Saturday-week is expected to be a more severe contest for the Santa Anans than the joust with the Bulldogs.

"Porky" Bell, the dynamic little halfback who ran 72 yards to a touchdown, against San Diego, probably will start in Kidder's place against Pasadena, although Herb Meyer, Kidder's chief understudy, may get the assignment.

COUNTY TEAMS MEET HERE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Santa Ana and Anaheim high school football teams will meet at Poly field November 11 in an afternoon feature of the annual Orange County Armistice Day Celebration, to be held this year in Santa Ana.

Arrangements for the game were completed today at a conference between Coach "Tex" Oliver of Santa Ana and Coach Dick Glover of Anaheim.

Anaheim's eleven has been the outstanding surprise of the Orange County league season. It opened its season with a 6-0 victory over Garden Grove and last Friday held the powerful Orange Panthers to a scoreless tie. The Colonists are thus far undefeated.

American Legion posts of Orange county will share in one-third of the gate receipts of the contest, the competing schools also receiving a third each.

There will be no other football game played in the county Armistice Day, so a capacity attendance is virtually assured. Phoenix, Santa Barbara and Whittier had previously been seriously considered as possible Santa Ana opponents. C. I. F. officials refused to give the Santa permission to play the Arizona school, however, and Santa Barbara and Whittier proceeded to make arrangements for their own game at Santa Barbara November 11.

PSYCHOLOGY HELPS WIN GRID GAMES—OLIVER

Football games are not won entirely on the gridiron and a successful football coach must be a psychologist, as well, according to "Tex" Oliver, Santa Ana high school grid coach and speaker at yesterday's session of the Exchange club.

Oliver paid tribute to the late Knute Rockne by terming him the master psychologist and greatest coach of all time and told incidents of the great gridder's career proving the effect of psychology in turning defeat into victory.

The recent game with San Diego in which the Saints defeated the invaders for the first time in ten years was used as an example of the need for psychology in preparing a winning team. For days Oliver devoted almost as much time to combating the Saint's inferiority complex in relation to the invaders as he did on the field perfecting plays.

Harold Matthews entertained the clubmen for a short time exhibiting his collection of unique musical instruments gathered from all parts of the world.

Members of the annual Exchange club dance committee reported that the dance this year will be held on the night before Halloween and will probably be held in San Clemente.

Huntington Beach Buys New Truck And Car

CITY COUNCIL TAKES ACTION ON 10 DERRICKS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 21.—The city council in session yesterday morning opened bids on a dump truck for the street department and a car for the police department. A Ford dump truck offered by W. D. Young to cost $961 was accepted by the council for the street department. An Essex car recommended by Chief of Police C. D. Steward and offered for $450 cash and a used Chevrolet held by the department was the council's selection. They were the two lowest priced cars offered under the bidding that met the requirements and needs of the city.

Councilman Chris H. King called attention to the danger to the pavement on Wesley avenue, due to leaks in the water mains. He said the water company should be forced to repair these leaks. City Attorney Lewis W. Blodgett was instructed to take the matter up with the water company and take whatever action was necessary to insure the protection of the street paving.

The council ordered the posting for wrecking of 10 oil derricks declared by Street Superintendent Henry Wirth to be improperly guyed or unsafe in other ways. Some of the derricks are over producing wells. The city will wreck all of them not made safe within 30 days after posting.

Midway City And Riverside County Property In Deal

MIDWAY CITY, Oct. 21.—A three-cornered deal of interest locally is now in escrow which includes in the transaction the local drug store, the former B. L. Kirkham property located on South Jackson street, and ranch property at Norco, Riverside county.

The drug store owned by Bert M. Gorrell goes to Harold Robertson, local resident, while Gorrell takes the Norco property, which is owned by a Mr. Preston, who will take the South Jackson street home.

Preston, a former resident of the Bolina-Garden Grove district, will move here from Norco. It is understood. Mr. Robertson is at present assisting in the Midway City post office as the postmaster's assistant. He will take over the exchange of the property interests by her husband for the drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorrell and family, who have been Midway City residents for several years since purchasing the local pharmacy, plan on going to Norco to make their home.

DELAY ACTION ON PLACENTIA WATER SYSTEM

PLACENTIA, Oct. 21.—Placentia Chamber of Commerce directors voted to withhold any decision on the recommendation to establish a municipally owned water company until the chamber committee had held a private conference with H. V. Anderson, general superintendent of the American states water company, immediately following the chamber meeting yesterday.

Anderson met with the members of the chamber and asked for a private conference with the committee. LeRoy Lyon, H. O. Easton and Jack Prizer. In his talk at the chamber, he said the American States Water company is not making as much interest on the investment as the railroad commission allows, at the present time.

Special guests of the chamber were the city trustees who came to hear Anderson tell of the proposals of the company as to lowering water rates. Anderson withheld his proposals for the special committee meeting.

For some time, residents and the city council have registered many complaints as to service and rates of water supplied by the water company. T. E. Pickering said that several people had asked him to draft a petition to present the city council asking them to build their own plant, but that he was waiting for the special committee to make recommendations before assisting in the action.

E. A. Eisenacher reported that $121 has been banked from sale of tickets for the benefit ball game Saturday. The game is between Placentia Orange Growers and Bradford Brothers packing house teams. The funds are to be used to supply milk to under-nourished children at school.

CONSTRUCTION OF HILLCREST ROAD APPROVED

FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—Approval for the construction of East Valley View drive from Hillcrest park east to Harvard avenue was given by the city council to City Engineer Thorpe at its regular bi-monthly meeting held last night.

This road will provide a new outlet for automobile traffic through Hillcrest park and will make a new scenic drive for motorists overlooking the city of Fullerton. The road will be 30 feet wide and will cost about $1100. The maximum grade over the two hills will not exceed 13 per cent, Thorpe stated.

Fullerton high school students will no longer be permitted to park their automobiles all day in the streets around the high school grounds, it was decided. The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance to prohibit all parking of automobiles in the streets immediately adjacent to the high school grounds between the hours of 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. This will permit visitors to the football games and other high school activities to park cars for a longer period.

The same ordinance was changed to provide parallel parking for cars along Spadra road from the Erea intersection south to the city limits. The original ordinance covered only the main business section. This will provide a wider thoroughfare for the state highway through Fullerton.

A communication from the League of California Municipalities requesting all cities, counties and the state to place workers on a five day basis. No action was taken in this regard.

A resolution prepared by the Orange County Farm Bureau with the city of Laguna Beach in regard to the present and future use of water from the Santa Ana basin was approved. Albert Launer, city attorney, explained the resolution in detail.

The hearing of protests on the widening of the state highway north to the city limits was postponed again for two weeks upon the advice of the city attorney.

The matter pertaining to the city license fee which was brought up for consideration at the last meeting of the city trustees, was carried over for another two weeks.

City Engineer Thorpe presented a map for improvement district number 141. This map pertains to the development of the state highway. The map was approved as submitted.

$101,790 FOR ROAD WORK IN SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 21.—Construction of highways, curbs, water lines and sewers under way in San Clemente will cost $101,790, according to Ray Barnett, engineer in the office of W. A. Ayer, city engineer. Laborers are at work on four projects at this time.

John and Bessie are paving two miles of state highway within the city limits, while Dan Mulhron has men at work on three subdivision tracts.

At the south end of the Spanish village one and three-quarters miles of pavement is being laid, adding 10 feet to the present 20-foot strip. At the north end of San Clemente three-quarters of a mile of grading and paving is being constructed. This calls for new pavement, 40 feet wide with the building of a 60-foot highway. This is part of the $382,000 San Mateo-Doheny Park project now under way.

In the tract opposite the San Clemente municipal golf course and north of the San Clemente beach park, $7000 is being spent paving 100,000 square feet of road, laying a mile of curb.

Street work in the Santa Fe depot track calling for 45,000 square feet of paving, 1600 feet of curb and 800 feet of sewer will cost $2950.

On the baseball field unit 28,000 feet of pavement is being laid. There will be 1600 feet of curb, 800 feet of water line and 1800 feet of sewer. This job will cost $3340.

Pioneer Rancher Dies As Machine Falls 500 Feet

LA HABRA, Oct. 21.—Albert J. Lese, 70, pioneer rancher of La Habra, was killed Monday night in an automobile wreck in the San Jacinto mountains. Mr. Lese left Whittier Monday afternoon accompanied by Charles Rettig and Francis Thill, of Montebello, for a fishing trip at one of the mountain resorts above Hemet. In the fog and rain Mr. Lese drove his car over a 500-foot embankment. His two companions were severely injured. As the car plunged over the cliff one of the lights remained burning, which attracted passing motorists. The injured men were removed to the Whittier Memorial hospital.

Mr. Lese owned large citrus groves in La Habra but since the death of his wife several years ago had made his home with his niece, Mrs. Emma Hensel, 415 Painter avenue, Whittier.

Funeral arrangements await the arrival of two brothers from Iowa. The body is at the White-Emerson parlors in Whittier.

FULLERTON TO HELP JOBLESS BY DONATIONS

FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—Members of the Fullerton city council yesterday afternoon in an informal session informed the ways and means committee of the 1931-1932 unemployment committee, consisting of Robert Strang, Tom Eadlington and R. S. Gregory, that there was not money available at the present time to set aside the sum of $22,500 for unemployment purposes in Fullerton.

This committee has been delegated some time ago by a group of Fullerton unemployed to present a request to the city trustees that this amount of money be set aside for work during the winter season. The committee was told, however, that it would be glad to supervise any fund that was raised for this purpose and would also provide work on the city parks for all the men that could be paid from this fund.

It is planned to raise the money by donations which will be turned over to the city treasurer, who in turn will disburse it to the workers by the regular city warrants.

A plan is now being worked out by the city engineer to use laborers in construction work.

PREDESTINATION IS FORD SUBJECT

"Every person has an equal chance to be saved. God has not picked out certain ones that He desires to be in heaven, but He does say that He wants all men to be saved," declared Evangelist John E. Ford last night in his lecture at the tabernacle located on North Main street.

"Anybody that sits down and folds his arms and makes no effort to get ready for heaven is headed straight for hell, because everyone that hasn't accepted Christ is condemned already. Unless a little more action into their Christianity they will find themselves outside the gates of heaven one of these days.

"Has God predestined anyone to be saved? He most certainly has. And anybody that wants to be one of those can be one. A law of heaven was created at the time of the fall into sin that whosoever should accept Christ would have eternal life. So everybody that is in Christ is destined for heaven. Whosoever will may take of the water of life freely" is the last message sent down to this world by Jesus. The water of life is flowing for everyone that will stoop and drink."

Tonight Evangelist Ford will speak on the topic, "Will the Devil Burn in a Lake of Fire Forever?"

Real relief from CONSTIPATION

When digestive distress follows mealtime, you can suspect an acid condition.

Acidity affects the appetite. What food you do eat sours in the stomach. The tongue becomes coated. The breath is bad. Sick headaches become frequent. You are constipated.

These are danger signals which should never go unheeded. Your system is fairly shouting its need of help; something to help remove the acid waste and restore alkaline balance. An anti-acid to offset the effect of too rich a diet, nervousness, excitement, etc.

Men and women who meet this need promptly with Phillips' Milk of Magnesia do not suffer. They eat well, and their food doesn't ferment in the stomach. Every trace of over-acidity soon disappears. All sour gas is dispelled. Stomach, liver and bowels have a better chance to function.

If there is the least hint of too much acid, just take a spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia today, and for several days. Feel this sweeten your stomach. Note how appetite improves. And elimination. You will wonder how anything so pleasant-tasting can be so promptly effective. 25c and 50c bottles at drug stores everywhere.

Phillips' Dental Magnesia Tooth-paste guards against acid-mouth; keeps gums firm and teeth pearly white.

CIVIC LEADERS DISCUSS RELIEF, CIVIC CENTER, PARKS AND CITY CHARTER

Immediate problems of how to care for the needy of the city this winter; what disposition should be made of the old Willard school site on North Main street; and protection of the youth of the city were topics of consideration at a get-together dinner session of municipal and school officials in the Frances Willard Junior High school last night.

Other matters, looking farther into the future, which were suggested at the conference, included development of a civic center, a city auditorium and adequate parks; adoption of the charter form of government for Santa Ana; provision for needs of the junior college; and consolidation of municipal and school band leadership.

Most of those present at the meeting, which was the second of a series held at the invitation of the city school board, headed by George Wells, were agreed that some scheme should be worked out for holding the Willard site on North Main street as city property with the idea of developing it as a civic center. No definite plan was suggested at this time.

Relief Problem Paramount
The relief problem seemed of paramount importance and occupied much of the discussion. All agreed that every effort should be made to co-operate in handling the situation, while school principals told actual cases that had come to their observation that made them realize that young people of the community are feeling the conditions of the times to the extent that they were sacrificing and planning to the last nickel.

Suggestion for construction of a new school in the south part of the city from bond funds now on hand as a means of providing employment, met objection from school authorities that the city is now over-built as to elementary schools both from the standpoint of educational efficiency and economical operation, and that further construction was opposed by the school administration.

H. G. Warner, city police commissioner, asserted that he was determined, with the efficient aid of the police department, to make Santa Ana a decent, clean place for children and that he was hard at work in an effort to clean up conditions relative to enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

The plan to reserve the old Willard site as a possible community center was heartily endorsed by Councilman J. L. McBride, Mayor John Knox and Superintendent of Schools P. R. Davis.

Suggest City Charter
City charter government for Santa Ana was suggested by William J. Tway, secretary of the planning commission, who declared that there was a weakness in the lack of the type of government that would permit planning adequately for the future and utilizing the full extent of the capabilities and talents for leadership of municipal officers, rather than having it all regulated from Sacramento.

Consolidation of band leadership as a measure of service and economy was suggested by Councilman Paul Witmer. He was assured by Wells that the school board would consider the matter.

Work of the junior police of the city was strongly commended by those at the meeting and letters of appreciation for service rendered were ordered sent to Chief of Police Floyd Howard, as well as to Coach "Tex" Oliver for the spirit of sportsmanship that he has instilled into his teams and the student body as displayed at the San Diego game.

In commenting on the junior college problem, Dr. Davis declared a problem of housing and operating the school existed that must be handled shortly and asked those present to give some study to this matter for future suggestion. He revealed that there was an average daily attendance at the school this fall of 656, or more than 125 above the figure for average attendance last spring.

Dr. Davis also asserted that school leaders are planning to practice measures of economy in every way possible and that he was hopeful that items budgeted for expense could be saved during the year.

The problem of segregation of Mexican children in the school was also touched upon at the conference, and it developed that school officials are doing all in their power to solve the problem satisfactorily, but that they are limited by law as to how far they may go.

Value of the roundtable conferences was strongly approved by those present and it was decided to continue the meetings every few months. The next meeting is to be held at the high school cafeteria next January.

Those present at the meeting were: Mayor John Knox, Councilmen Paul Witmer, E. G. Warner, J. L. McBride and A. C. Hasenjaeger; School Trustees George Wells, W. M. Burke, Hollis Hays and Marion Youel; City Engineer DeWitt Dudley, William J. Tway and A. H. Allen, of the city planning commission; Principals L. G. Mitchell and D. K. Hammond; City Attorney Clyde Downing; E. H. Boynton, auditor, and George Newcom, business manager of the city schools; Paul Neff and George Hart.

Commissioner Asks Aid In Drive Against Liquor

NEEDS FUND TO SECURE LIQUOR CASE EVIDENCE

Declaring that co-operation of citizens and establishment of a fund of several hundred dollars was needed in efforts to clean up the community and secure better enforcement of the anti-liquor laws, Police Commissioner E. G. Warner at a conference of civic leaders in the Frances Willard Junior High school last night revealed that liquor is sold on the high school campus and to high school boys in some drug stores of the community.

In commenting on the matter he asserted that he was directing every effort to making the community a clean place for its children, and that there was a need for more undercover work, which had to be financed.

"We need a fund to get evidence," he declared. "We know that liquor is coming into the community and that it is being sold to high school boys. One high school boy told his father that he could get as much liquor as he wanted delivered the next day on the school campus, but refused to 'snitch' as he put it when the father wanted to know from whom.

"An ex-prohibition enforcement man who was here last winter told me it would be a great task to rid this community of its 'blind pigs.' He, too, refused to give me definite information for fear he would be 'taken for a ride' and 'bumped off' as he expressed it. But he did tell me that some liquor was sold on the school campus, and on the very day that a capture was made by the government boat of a rum runner down here off the Santa Margarita ranch.

"We know that high school boys are buying liquor in some drug stores without prescriptions, and there is a need for a fund to do undercover work. Recently a public spirited citizen put up some money and the chief of police raised a little more and with $100 we secured evidence for arrests and convictions that netted the city $1200 in fines."

Warner paid high tribute to the

"Mr. Tolleson, Community Chest Mgr. "Dear Tolleson: "Hand you herewith $10.00 from a friend of the Community Chest who made as full a pledge when I visited him as his income would allow, and signed his pledge card in his name. But after reading last evening's Register of the shortage of $8000 he felt that he could deny himself some little personal necessities so that he might give a few more dollars, and has made this pledge of $10 with a sincere plea that 799 more men would realize their obligation to the community and the agencies which the Community Chest, if successful, will be able to maintain at the high standard which they have existed during the past years, would each give $10."

ORANGE COUNTY UNDERWRITERS PLAN MEETING

More than 65 guests are expected to attend the dinner meeting of the Orange County Life Underwriters association to be held Thursday night at Ketner's cafe, according to Rolla Hays, Jr., president of the association. Members of the association are opening the meeting to include their wives and friends. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m.

Hays said this morning that plans have been completed to make the meeting the greatest gathering of life insurance underwriters ever held in Orange county. Because of the scope of this conference a program of more than usual interest has been prepared. The musical program will be under direction of D. C. Clifton.

Speakers of more than usual merit have been secured for the evening and have announced their topics which will be of interest to both insurance men and their guests.

Robert Brown, president of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters association will talk on the "Million Dollar Round Table Session to be held at Pittsburgh." Samuel McCurdy, vice president of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters association will speak on the subject: "How Old Am I Financially?" Roy Denny, past president of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters' association has chosen the subject: "Life Insurance as an Investment." "Work of the American College of Life Underwriters" will be discussed by Verne Steward, lecturer in life insurance at University College, Los Angeles. "Work of the Association and Its Benefits to the Underwriters" will be the topic upon which Joseph Charleville, managing director of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters Association, will talk.

Work and ability of Chief Floyd Howard and his department, which he declared he believed were cleaner and better than any in the state. He quoted arrest statistics to show that there had been 157 arrests for drunkenness, 51 for possession and 23 for driving drunk since Howard took over the department last April. He urged the group to back up the police force in its work.

EAGER TO TELL ABOUT HER STOMACH

"I want to tell others about my experience with Pape's Diapiesin," says Mrs. B. Eastman, 1200 California St., Denver, Colo. "I tried a lot of things for my indigestion, but none of them did any good. Then a friend persuaded me to take a few tablets of this wonderful preparation.

"Now I even eat cabbage without any distress afterwards. It used to cause real suffering. I am not nearly so nervous as I used to be; feel much stronger and better in every way."

A medicine must have real merit to bring forth enthusiastic statements like this. And when not one, but hundreds, even thousands, are telling the same story of success, there seems no reason to doubt the lay-in and day-out reliability of Pape's Diapiesin to help stomach sufferers.

These harmless, candy-like tablets relieve the heartburn, nausea, gas, belching, headaches, dizziness and other symptoms of indigestion.

WILL COMPLETE ORGANIZATION OF NEW CHURCH

One hundred and fifty persons who have signed membership cards in the Calvary church of Santa Ana, together with those who sign cards this week, will be received as charter members of the institution next Sunday, it was announced today by the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, pastor.

A nominating committee then will submit names to be voted on in selection of officers for the church.

Services started in the Ebell clubhouse on September 20, and attendance has increased until there were 160 present at the mid-week service last Wednesday and 260 last Saturday night.

The organization is a branch of the Calvary church at Placentia. The Rev. Mr. Lindgren until recently was assistant pastor of the Church of the Open Door at the Bible Institute of Los Angeles. The work of the church here is definitely evangelistic and several have made public confessions of Christ in the meetings, according to church leaders. A study of the book of Romans, begun last Wednesday, is evoking considerable interest, it is reported. The study groups meet every Wednesday evening at the Ebell clubhouse.

'HOMECOMING' FOR LIONS CLUB EVENT

"Old timers" of the Santa Ana Lions club will have their day at the meeting Thursday noon in Ketner's cafe for the annual observance of a general get-together of all the members, past and present, who have been affiliated with the club. It was disclosed today by E. M. Sundquist, secretary.

The first of these affairs was held last year and the number who attended was so large that the event was inaugurated as an annual affair.

Sundquist said that the old members would be made to feel "perfectly at home."

RADIO 'CHURCH OF THE WILDWOOD' HAS PHENOMENAL GROWTH; OFFERS PRIZES

The Little Church of the Wildwood, radio church which broadcasts daily except Sunday from 9:30 to 10 a. m. over KREG, which has hundreds of friends and listeners, has started a drive for 1000 members, it was announced today by the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene here, which sponsors the radio institution. Several weeks ago the pastor started to enroll names of those who would become members of the church and already 422 persons have enrolled.

The inspiration for the radio church is The Little Brown Church in the Vale, made famous by the song of that name, and most of the songs broadcast are from hymn books of long ago. The entertainers come from the Church of the Nazarene. An old fashioned chapel organ is used for accompaniment and the program opens with notes on the piano imitating the old church bell. The song for which the largest number of requests has been received is "The Old Rugged Cross."

As a special inducement, between today and November 5, prizes will be awarded for sending in names of listeners who are willing to join the church. Anyone who listens is eligible. The contestant sending in the largest list of names and address of such persons, according to the Rev. Mr. Harding, will receive a year's subscription to The Register. Second prize will be a Thanksgiving turkey given through the courtesy of the Piggy Wiggy Meat market; third prize, a three piece portrait panel of a child, given by the Rundell studio in the Register building; fourth prize, a large primer print old folks Bible, given by the Santa Ana Book store; fifth prize, a box of ladies silk hose containing three pairs, given by the Serene and Fulkerson Shoe company; sixth prize, a box of ladies' lingerie, given by Oldfield's Silk shop; and seventh prize, a box of fancy stationery given by the Madden pharmacy.

The program of Gifts Financed by the Little Church of the Wildwood is financed outside the Church of the Nazarene, gifts of one dollar and more having been received and acknowledged on the air by the pastor, The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Orange county occupies 30 minutes on the program each Tuesday.

"It is not a church," said the Rev. Mr. Harding, "in the sense that one does not have to be a member of any church to join. The motto is 'oppose nothing but sin, preach nothing but Christ.'"

Members of the church live in Long Beach, Catalina Island, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendora, Ontario, Riverside, Whittier and all the towns of Orange county. Outside of Santa Ana the largest enrollment is at Long Beach.

Dozens of letters are received from listeners. One of them, from Arne, Ella and Verla Wimberley, Mrs. A. J. Weston and Mrs. R. A. Williams, all of Anaheim, was as follows:

"We listen to the program of the Little Church of the Wildwood every morning. We feel that it is the means of many people hearing the word of God who would not have the opportunity of hearing it otherwise. We would be very happy to have you continue the broadcast."

"Mother said to tell you that each morning as she listened to your program of the old songs of yesterday that it brought back memories of the church of her childhood in Arkansas."

"Will you please sing 'I've Been Redeemed by the Blood of the Lamb' on the Friday morning program."

S. A. GIRL WILL DIRECT CHILD WELFARE WORK

Word has been received by authorities at the Santa Ana Junior college that Miss Dorothy Cartwright, Jaycee graduate and former Berkeley student, has been chosen by the University of Southern California to conduct a project in child welfare at the International House in Los Angeles for a period of six months. Miss Cartwright was the Girl Reserves secretary for the Santa Ana Y. W. C. A. during the past year.

The project is a result of a competition held last year in which 1200 persons throughout California submitted plans for carrying on child welfare work. The competition was started by private individuals, who offered a prize of $1000 for the most satisfactory ideas, and out of the 1200 plans, two were selected as being of such unusual merit that both are being

The social science department of U. S. C. has been placed at the head of one of these projects, and it has been in operation about 10 days with Miss Cartwright supervising and directing a force of three people. If the project should prove beneficial to the children of Los Angeles, it will become permanent, according to announcement from the social department of the University.

SUPERVISORS AND DIRECTOR CONFER

Following adjournment by the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon, members of that body conferred in the committee room with Byron Curry, director of the county welfare department.

Curry was appointed to the position by the board two weeks ago immediately after it had accepted the resignation of Walter Gregg, of Orange, who had held the position since the department was organized in 1915.

County Expense For Repatriating Mexicans Is Low

While it has cost Los Angeles county approximately $12.26 per person to repatriate Mexicans to their homes during recent months, Orange county's total bill for the same item has been less than $100 because residents of this section who departed either paid their own way or were able to make arrangements through the office of the Mexican consul at Los Angeles, it was learned today.

Compared to Orange county's bill of less than $100, Los Angeles county spent about $11,000 for one recent trip to Mexico, made by a trainload of emigrants.

According to Byron Curry, in charge of the welfare department here, there have been scarcely any such cases here. A number of Mexican people have consulted the welfare office on the question and have been advised as to the procedure to take in returning to Mexico.

ASK INCREASE IN PROTECTION OF FARM AREAS

Following a discussion yesterday with the board of supervisors in which it was pointed out that there is no money available in the Orange county budget for returning the fruit patrol to its former status herty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, was given a pledge of support by the county officials in attempting to arrange a concerted program whereby co-operation of other law enforcement agencies will be sought in protecting farm areas from thieves.

Flaherty said he would seek to arrange a conference between the Farm Bureau, the district attorney's office, the sheriff's office and constables of the county at which an attempt will be made to devise a plan whereby the added protection sought can be arranged.

Flaherty told the board that the two cars now patrolling the coun-

MAY INCLUDE J. C. STUDENT FEE IN TUITION

Possibility of steps being taken by the state board of education to legalize charging of registration fees to include membership in student body organizations in junior colleges all over California was suggested at the state meeting of Associated Student presidents held Friday and Saturday in Berkeley, according to George Griffith, Santa Ana Jaycee student proxy, who was a delegate to the conference.

The proposal met with enthusiastic approval of everyone present, Griffith said. The group had no to discuss problems of mutual interest and to take steps to solve the question of funds which is foremost in the administration of all schools.

According to present statutes, it is unlawful for any junior college to charge fees for extra-curricular activities, and to require the students to pay these fees before registration can be completed. Most junior colleges represented said that only 60 or 75 per cent of their students were holders of the requested tickets.

Griffith said that various schools met the situation in various ways. Sacramento Jaycee refuses to issue any athletic equipment to non-members, and Modesto refuses admission to assemblies, games, and contests. The local junior college is facing a problem of combining both of these relief methods, as well as slashing the proposed budget for the two semesters of the present school year, it is said.

In company with Paul Hottel, Fullerton Jaycee delegate, Griffith made the trip north by boat, returning by plane.

ty were not able to handle the situation as well as before the fruit patrol was cut.

Chairman John C. Mitchell, of Garden Grove, recalled that the board went into the matter when the budget was adopted and that because of the reduction in the budget money is not available to grant the request for more fruit patrol men. He pointed out that taxes had been retained at last year's level and that "we can't serve the people any more than their ability to pay."

All were attired in red and white, and a dilapidated old Ford, which formed their conveyance, was also decorated in the colors of the Saints.

Former Santa Ana Man
Returns Here With Eastern Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin M. Rowland, Hewes avenue, are welcoming the return of their son, Russell Rowland, and his charming bride, from Chicago, where the former has been pursuing his musical studies at Northwestern university and the Chicago Musical college for the past two and one-half years.

Mr. Rowland met his bride at Northwestern university, where she was studying art and literature, and their wedding took place Sunday afternoon, January 25 of this year. The vows were solemnized at the twilight hour in the Rogers Park Congregational church of Chicago, with the Rev. John Andrew Holmes officiating. The service was unique in that the bride interpreted the marriage vows into blank verse, read by the Rev. Mr. Holmes previous to the regular ceremony.

Mrs. Rowland was Miss Frieda Hauer, the daughter of John Hauer, of Greenville, Miss. Although a daughter of the Southland, Mrs. Rowland lived in Chicago nine years, pursuing her advanced education there in addition to writing advertising and business literature for prominent advertising firms.

In addition to perfecting his piano technique, Mr. Rowland has devoted much time to theoretical subjects. His many Santa Ana friends are hoping that he and his talented wife will remain in the community to make their home.

At present they are making their home with Mr. Rowland's parents. Mr. Rowland won his B. A. degree from Pomona college, his Bachelor of Music degree at the Chicago Musical college and is now awaiting his Master's degree.

Mrs. Benjamin Reviews
Book at Meeting of Ebell Section

Interpreting "The Story of Julian" by Susan Ertz in delightful fashion, Mrs. H. H. Benjamin, of Anaheim, contributed much of interest to the meeting of the First Book Review section of Ebell society held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. E. Burke in her home on Panorama Heights.

The hostess group assisting Mrs. Burke in greeting guests comprised the program committee, Mrs. Catherine Marble, Mrs. E. W. Spruance, and Mrs. Loyal K. King. Mrs. J. M. Cloyne, leader of the section, introduced Mrs. Benjamin, who is leader of the literature section in the Anaheim club. In giving her review, Mrs. Benjamin drew a contrast between one of Susan Ertz' first books, "Madame Claire" and "The Story of Julian."

"Madame Claire," the speaker explained, deals with old age and its beauty, while her later book considers the problems of modern youth. Mrs. Benjamin has reviewed books in this city on previous occasions.

Mrs. King, program chairman, announced that the November meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. E. B. Sprague, 1920 Victoria drive, which time Mrs. Percy Davis will review "Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens." It was announced also that the program for the December meeting has been arranged as a surprise affair.

In conclusion yesterday, the hostess group served dainty refreshments. Mrs. W. E. Ode and Mrs. C. F. Smith presided at the tea and coffee urns.

Charles Cadman to Be
Piano Accompanist
For Song Cycle

Members of the Santa Ana Valley Ebell society will be privileged to share something new in the line of musical presentations Monday afternoon when "White Enchantment," a song cycle, will be presented at the meeting in the clubhouse.

The text for the unique arrangement has been written by Nelle Richmond Eberhart, and the music by none other than Charles Wakefield Cadman, America's distinguished composer-pianist, who will preside at the piano during the afternoon. Margaret Messer, soprano; Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto; Otto Plotz, tenor, and Harold Kellogg, bass, form the quartet of singers.

It has been announced that the cycle deals with sequential episodes that might happen to any American family in a drawing room after dinner on a winter evening. Romance, adventure, a bit of humor give color to the program," as outlined by the writer of the poetic text.

The mother is the contralto; the sweetheart, the soprano; the lover, the tenor and the father, the bass. The cycle is arranged so that it may be given with action.

Numbers will include "Quartette—Fire on the Hearth"; "Recitative and solo—The Ladies of the Haven"; "Window Shopping on Avenue"; "Three Harps Make Songs to Heaven"; "Mignonette"; "The Plunderer"; "Love's Language"; "Lull Us No Longer"; "In Some Cold House"; and "Love is a Blossoming Bough," among others.

The program will be given at 2:30 p. m., following the business meeting which is to convene at 2 o'clock under the direction of the president, Mrs. Paul Bailey. Husbands of members will be welcomed as special guests.

Small tables decorated in the Lions' colors, and bearing miniature lions as favors for the guests, were set for 18 members and pledges, and their guests.

During the dinner, an interesting program was presented, featuring two vocal selections by Martin Bowman, member, and piano solo by Jack Gould, pledge. A welcoming message was given by the guests and pledges, in whose honor the affair was held, by James Thompson, president.

Following the four course menu, dancing occupied the remainder of the evening.

Meeting For Pledges
The spacious ranch home of Miss Neva McDonald at Irvine was the setting for an interesting affair this week when Las Meninas and their four "cousins" met for their community social and business meeting. A business meeting earlier in the evening was conducted by the vice-president, Miss Rosalind Schilling. It was decided to hold final installation in the form of a candle light tea, which will be given in the home of Miss Esther Romoff, Anaheim, between the hours of 4 to 6 o'clock Saturday, October 21. Miss Hazel Hushman was appointed in charge of the food committee. Plans were completed for the Halloween dance which will follow later that evening and which is to be in the form of a costume masquerade. It was also decided to give a Christmas tea to mothers of Las Meninas girls some time in December, in the home of Miss Miriam Samuelson, Tustin.

Following the business meeting various amusing stunts were presented by the pledges, including the stunt, "How Not to Act at a Bridge Tea." For each misdemeanor the pledges were severely punished and assigned various duties for the week. An interesting skit in etiquette was also presented by a group of members.

A refreshment course consisting of sandwiches, hot chocolate, iced cookies and candies and nuts was served by the hostesses to the following members:

The Mesdames Catherine Walbridge, Agnes McKinstry, Roselind Schilling, Ruth Collins, Friedella Watson, Florence Stanley, Hazel Hushman, Eugenia Gire, Damaris Sears, Esther Romoff, Catherine Harwood, Miriam Samuelson; the pledges, Helen Bower, Bonnie Kiser, Martha Hendricks, Verla Klein; the advisors, Miss Genevieve Humiston and Miss Dorothy Decker, and the hostess, Miss Neva McDonald.

Joint Conference

They were Miss Hazel Hushman, president of the A. W. A.; Miss Dulcinea Green, secretary of the organization, and Miss Lorna Allen, president of the W. A. A. They were accompanied by Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women.

"Womanliness" was the chosen theme of the conference, to which San Bernardino junior college acted as hosts. Upon arriving at the place of conference the guests registered, after which they enjoyed sightseeing until evening.

At 8:30 p. m. a banquet was served. Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish was the main speaker of the evening. She chose as her topic "Womanliness and Social Contact." Following the delegates enjoyed a concert of harp ensemble and soloists in the hotel lounge. The remainder of the evening was occupied by various diversions, including swimming in the beautiful outdoor pool proved the most popular.

At breakfast the following morning "Womanliness and Our Wisdom" was presented by Miss Esther Dayman of Mills college. The remainder of the morning was spent in discussion groups. This was concluded with a luncheon at noon, in charge of members of the Women's Athletic association.

The speaker during the luncheon hour was Miss Ruth Price of the physical education department of the University of Southern California, who interested the delegates with her topic, "Womanliness and Our Bodies."

Evening of Bridge
Miss Edith Bailey welcomed members of the Moxy club of Jaysee this week to her home, 305 East Washington street. A brief business session occupied the earlier part of the evening, at which it was decided to take charge of the next football rally and caravan to the next out-of-town game.

Following the business meeting bridge was enjoyed, at which the advisor, Miss Frances Egge, scored high. She was awarded a lovely appliqued handkerchief. Tables were then set for refreshments, and a delectable menu was served by the

Santa Ana Women Hold
Interesting Meeting
In Tompkins' Home

An enlightening talk on "The Russia of Today" by Mrs. Ella Webster, and a discussion of various club activities took place yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Santa Ana Woman's club held with Mrs. J. H. Tompkins, 711 South Sycamore street.

In telling of the strenuous lives which the Russian women lead, Mrs. Webster said that every Russian woman who is over 18 years of age must work. However, she added, contrary to popular opinion, there is a great deal of home life in Russia. She spoke optimistically of the country and its prospects.

Mrs. J. D. Watkins, club president, called the meeting to order, and members answered roll call with accounts of their vacation travels or of books they had read during the summer. Then

Walk Beautifully for Slimness

Lend me your ear while I whisper in it about the way the average woman walks.

The next time you are downtown stop on a busy corner and watch how "we women" walk. Scamper, scamper, we go when the green light flashes, and we continue scampering down the block, each step getting shorter, more hurried, shoulders hunched down so that the chest is compressed, and every muscle in the body is on a tension. Ugly, isn't it? And senseless!

Stop when you find yourself tearing along this way. Take longer steps, hold your head up, straighten up shoulders and make yourself breathe more deeply. The first thing you'll notice is this: That with the longer stride and deeper breathing fatigue is leaving you, and you'll notice, too, that your torso swings lightly from hips and waistline, as it was intended it should.

And what this does to correct ugly carriage is quite too wonderful! It gives you a sense of being free white and 21 that you've never had before!

Walk beautifully if you want to be gloriously healthy and slim. Healthy nerves are the reward of correct posture, and breathing right to the bottom of your lungs burns up excess fat.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Prune Souffle

1/2 pound dried prunes
5 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
Pinch of salt

Soak the prunes overnight, washing them first, for the water in which they are soaked is also their cooking water. If the dried prunes are just nicely covered that will be sufficient water. Set over a low fire and simmer until the prunes are soft enough to split. Take them from their liquid, stone and chop the pulp very fine; set the chopped pulp aside until you are cooking dinner, then—

Run the chopped pulp through the food grinder if not fine enough, whip the egg whites with 1 scant teaspoon of cornstarch, 2 tablespoons sugar and a pinch of salt, and last of all, fold in the prune pulp. Lightly, though, so that the air cells in the eggs won't be broken down—that's why prune souffles flop.

Bake in a shallow pudding dish, oven set at 400 degrees, or medium hot, for 20 minutes. The baking so that the souffle will be ready when you are ready to serve dessert.

Whipped cream is usually the designated trimming, but here we have five egg yolks left, so let's make a delicious sauce to serve in place of the more fattening cream. Heat 1 1/2 cups milk in a double boiler, whip the yolks with 1 scant teaspoon of cornstarch, 2 tablespoons sugar and a pinch of salt. Stir into the hot milk and keep stirring until a smooth, thin custard is the result. Flavor it and pour over the hot souffle. The custard sauce may be made earlier in the day and well chilled.

The souffle serves from six to eight. The individual calory total is 250 for each of the six portions of souffle and sauce. Proteins, in this dessert. That means that you serve this dessert for a dinner in which vegetables, and not meat, are the main issue.

For those vegetables just mentioned, you will find in this interesting ways for their preparation in this week's leaflet, Cooking Winter Vegetables. A stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me any day this week entitles you to a free copy.

Have you odds 'n' ends of vegetables still in your vegetable garden? A grand pickle recipe will take care of them for you tomorrow.

'BAD COMPANY' STARTS TODAY AT WEST COAST

Helen Twelvetrees' latest picture, "Bad Company," will open today at the Fox West Coast theater.

A splendid cast for this Charles R. Rogers production, Helen Twelvetrees portrays the role of Helen King. John Garrick is Steve, the man she marries, and Ricardo Cortez is Goldie Goro. Others in the cast are Paul Hurst, Frank McHugh and Harry Carey.

The story is briefly this. Helen King, with a number of her young friends, is enjoying the water sports in a quiet cove on an eastern seashore, using the beautiful sailing yacht which belongs to her brother, Markham King, apparently a big cog in New York's financial machinery, as headquarters. Speed-boating, aquaplaning and swimming are getting the full attention of the beautiful young girls and bronzed young men.

The engine had a queer smoke-stack, the top of which was smeared with black. "That's due to smoke," said Clowzy. "Watch it puff up toward the sky. But if the cinders blow this way, and I am much afraid they may, be sure and hold your heads down, or you'll get them in your eye."

The seats within the car they rode were plentiful for quite a load. "We are the only ones aboard," said Scouty, with a grin. The car, however, stopped just then and ere 'twas on its way again a lot of little native tots had gaily piled aboard.

"Hello, there, kids," we Carpy chided. "We're glad to have you on this ride. Please tell us where we ought to go to see some things we'll like." "Down to the river bank," said one. "Cause there you'll have a heap of fun. Just walk it from the carline end. It isn't such a hike."

"Say, that's the very thing we'll do. We're very much obliged to you," replied the kindly Travel Man. "Our car ride's nearly o'er. A spot will very soon be found where they can turn the engine 'round and then it will retrace its trail, amid a puff and roar."

And then they heard the car man shout, "Here's where we turn around. All out!" The Tiniest scrambled to the ground and Copy cried, "Let's find that river we were told to see. It's over this way. Follow me!" Before they left they thanked the native tots who'd been so kind.

A howling soon filled the air and Clowzy shouted, "Well, look there! I guess that is the sight that we were told we ought to see." He pointed to some cattle. They were swimming on their merry way across the shallow little stream, as easily as could be.

EDISON'S LIFE SUBJECT FOR SCHOOL TALKS

Special From Anaheim

H. P. Holmes, instructor in manual training and electricity in the Fremont intermediate school, was scheduled to make an address on the life of Edison at a special assembly this afternoon in the auditorium of the school. It was announced today by Wilbert H. Bonney, principal of the school. He was to have spoken on the value of Edison to humanity and to point out the great inventions and accomplishments that the noted inventor has passed on to his fellowmen.

A boy to be selected from the eighth grade was to give an original essay on the life of Edison but the selection of the boy who was to give the reading was not made this morning.

Plans were made to tie in a portion of the program broadcast over a national radio network with the assembly and to allow the students of the school an opportunity to hear part of the funeral services conducted over the body of the deceased inventor. The Fremont Harmony Boys were scheduled to sing a group of numbers at the special assembly.

WILL CONTINUE Y. M. C. A. DRIVE ANOTHER WEEK

Special From Anaheim

Because of inability of several directors to attend a scheduled meeting of the board of directors of Anaheim Y. M. C. A. last night to consider plans for continued operation of the "Y" until sufficient finances can be arranged for next year's expenses the meeting was postponed until early next week according to Secretary Conrad Jongeward.

Informal discussions among directors, however, resulted in a decision to continue the Y. M. C. A. campaign to raise its $5500 budget this week and to call in all prospect cards from the 75 solicitors previous to next week's board meeting. The campaign was launched last week and present indications are that the treasury will be $2000 short next year.

Clerks at the "Y" office today are making a comparative study of last year's pledges among friends of the "Y" who have not contributed this year principally because many of them have not yet been seen. Directors will then make a special effort to contact all of these individuals who have not been contacted by solicitors at the expiration of this week.

It is the hope of the present board of directors to have sufficient funds pledged before the annual election of officers and directors next month to finance activities of the organization next year. They do not want to have the new board of directors face the necessity of conducting a supplementary campaign next summer, it was said.

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County will hold a regular monthly meeting the evening of October 27, according to a communication sent George Reid, secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, by Harry May of Fullerton, secretary of the county organization. Final arrangements have been completed by the athletic group of the telephone operators for the dance which is being given Thursday night, October 22, at the Elks' club, according to Miss Olive Criswell, chairman of the affair. The dance will start at 8:30 o'clock.

The dance is open to the public, with bids selling at $1.00 a couple or 50 cents apiece. Jack Ewing's popular dance orchestra from Los Angeles will furnish music for the event.

The dance will be informal and decorations will be carried out in the Halloween motif.

Committees which have been working hard on the dance are already assured, from the enthusiastic response being made to their efforts, that the affair will be successful.

TEACHERS AND PRINCIPALS TO HOLD MEETING

Special From Anaheim

Reservations have been made for 350 members of the Orange County Principals and Teachers' association meeting to be held in the basement of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow night. It was announced today by Wilbert H. Bonney, principal of the Fremont school who is the president of the county organization.

Usually we have about 300 in attendance at the meetings, but this year the reservation list shows a marked increase, indicating the interest being shown in the gatherings," Bonney declared. Those who attend the sessions will be given credit in the Teacher's Institute.

The complete program of musical entertainment for the meeting was also announced today by Miss Lily E. Hansen, music director of Anaheim schools, who has charge of this phase of the program. The programs for the event were made at the Fremont school and are in the form of an orange-colored pumpkin, stressing the Halloween motif.

The Girls' Glee club of the Fremont school will sing "Morning," by Grieg, "Sing, Little Banjo," by Wilson, and "The Toy Town Admiral," by request. Dorothy Pratt and Helen Pifer are to be the accompanists for the club.

The Fremont Harmony Boys, newly organized this year, will sing "The Ragged Vagabond," by Randolph and "The State Song," by special request. Virginia Sims is to be the accompanist for the group.

A report of the N. E. A. convention held during the summer in Los Angeles will be presented by Gladys Head. The featured speaker on the program is to be Dr. Madeline Ververka, of the Los Angeles city school system, who returned recently from Europe where she graduated from the University of Prague in Czechoslovakia.

A 6:30 o'clock dinner will be served at the church on West Broadway by the Ladies' Aid of the church with Mrs. M. E. Beebe in charge of arrangements. The business session will be held in the church, after which the meeting will adjourn to the auditorium of the Fremont school for the entertainment program. Business will probably include discussion of membership in the California Teachers' association. Class room teachers will also have a brief meeting at which time they will elect representatives to the state organization.

F. B. Mattox, principal of the Horace Mann school, is chairman of the program committee. Those who are assisting him are Emily Rannow, Lorene Ziegler, Irma Steadman, Dorothy Harvey, Alexander Jimenez and C. D. Davis.

SCHOOL SQUINTS

Special From Anaheim

Eather Pierce, a senior, has entered A. U. H. S. from Pomona high school.

From Pasadena, Marie Dutton has entered as a freshman.

Carl Ablett, a graduate of Anaheim high in 1925, has enrolled as a special student in machine shop.

Returning to Anaheim after a few weeks in Los Angeles, Claire and Tom Fisher re-entered A. U. H. S.

Another source of Student Body revenue has been placed on the campus, in the form of an apple vendor.

The vender is refilled twice daily; early in the morning and in the afternoon. Delicious big apples are sold for five cents apiece.

It has been decided that the high school buses will be held when football games are scheduled for the home field, permitting all students living outside the city limits to remain for the games.

A 40 yard sprint was held last night among the Colonist backfield men and Ray Uyeshima proved to be the speediest, with Bill Bouldin a close second.

It has been heard that "Shorty" Smith's Brea-Olinda Wildcats claimed Redlands high school to a 33 to 6 score. If so Anaheim Colonists had better point for the Brea-Olinda tussle to be held with Anaheim in the Wildcats' lair on October 30.

Two Anaheim boys had conferred upon them the De Molay second degree last night by the Santa Ana Chapter, Order of De Molay. They are Harvey Gerth, a senior, and Howard Loudon, junior.

A special meeting of the Sophomore class was called yesterday by Miss Lois Dyer, chief adviser, to determine whether or not the class was in favor of attempting to give a reception for the "Freshies." Funds in the treasury are woefully lacking and if an entertainment is to be given, money must be raised immediately. If the reception is given, December 11 has been set as the date.

The official Orange league football standing has been released as follows:

Brea-Olinda W L T Pct
Anaheim 1 0 0 1.000

High schools said to be making a bid for the new military organizations are Pomona, Ontario, San Bernardino, Glendale, Alhambra and Inglewood but no decision has been made as to which will be accepted.

Since its organization at the opening of the 1930-31 school year the local high school cadet corps has met with unusual success and proved highly popular among boys of the school Superintendent J. A. Clayes said today.

Its beneficial effects have been reflected in the general health, conduct and class room work of its members Clayes said.

It is under the command of Edward F. Kroutill, coach, commercial teacher and a reserve army officer on the faculty. Each morning at 8:10 Kroutill has the boys out on the drill grounds for a 45-minute drill in army maneuvers. The athletic field is used for this purpose.

There are now approximately 120 boys enrolled in the corps including a 45-piece band and a 20-piece drum and bugle corps, and the enrollment is constantly increasing.

Enrollment is entirely voluntary and military training in the Anaheim high school is not compulsory. The corps is financed jointly by the state bureau of military affairs and the local high school. The state furnishes caps, shirts and guns while the school furnishes the instructor and drill grounds. Boys who are members of the corps furnish a portion of their own clothing.

Local school officials are highly pleased with the result of military training in the high school but were surprised to learn the Anaheim corps is the only unit of its kind in Southern California.

Capt. Raymond Smith, a reserve army officer of this city, is also keeping in close touch with the corps and assisting in its supervision, it was said.

JEFFERSON STANDARD LIFE

JINS. CO. of Greensboro, N. C. JAMES H. SEWELL, Mgr. SANTA ANA Office 297 Builders' Exchange Bldg. Play safe before Halloween! Spooks play havoc with you or yours. The widow provided with $20 per month for life is much safer than the widow left any amount of cash, for bad investment may at any time wipe out her only means of livelihood and cause her to face old age penniless. The possibility of being left alone some day through loss of death of husband, sons, daughters, is ever present with the wife and mother. When her eyes are dim with age, her hands tremble and her steps feeble, it is then she will appreciate most the JEFFERSON STANDARD LIFE'S Monthly Income service. $20 a month is not a large sum, but it will insure your wife, your mother, from want all her life. Let a Jefferson Standard representative explain this plan in detail. Phone 2389.

GREEN CABLES, 2115 N. Main. "Your Fashion Shop" will gladly solve your Halloween problems for the formal ball, or the informal afternoon or 5 o'clock high tea occasion. Do have a look at those graceful, ruffled and double ruffled black taffetas; those tapering silhouettes in canton crepe that burst into full flare at the low skirt line; the black with scarlet jackets, which makes a perfectly stunning tea gown of a strictly formal dress, with the addition of a clever little sash to lift the neck line. Large bows in back, touching the low V-neck, give that present mode effect of the old fashioned bustle. White tulle, the new shades of blue, green, orchid, pink, etc., are generously shown. See your hometown "Fashion Shop" first, and you won't go elsewhere.

MARSHALL DRAPERY CO. Santora Bldg., Broadway at 2nd. Halloween is coming along, and what with parties and company, you'll want the house "freshened" up as well as costumes for the family from baby sister to grandpa and grandma. Marshall's is the place to look for beflowered and bestrapped materials for draping the house or for making clever costumes. And if you've no spare time for shopping down town, call 23, Marshall, the Drapery Man, will respond immediately, bringing his portable showrooms to your door, where you can make selections without the bother of dressing for the street. Make up your mind what you want in drapes, and Marshall will do the rest. And don't forget he has many intriguing patterns for a Halloween costume.

THE COLONY CRAFTSMEN, 15th Bldg., Coast Blvd., Laguna Beach. No doubt your Halloween "spree" will take you down to Laguna Beach, as the "Road to Rome" cuts through Laguna's middle, so you'll want to stop and browse among the Art-Craftsmen's wares of Laguna's Colony Craftsmen. It is decidedly one of the interesting exhibits to be found in lower California. Who would not cherish a gift, small or large, simple or ornate, typically representative of the famous Art Colony of Laguna Beach. Its colorful Laguna-made pottery is the talk of the travel-wise world.

TURNER'S FILKIL, ORANGE County Hardware, Grocery, Drug Stores. Don't allow that Halloween party, or house guests, to be annoyed and yourself embarrassed by pilfering insects. Just make sure that the supply of FILKIL is sufficient to tide over the hurry and flurry of exciting preparations for spook night. The housewife who keeps plenty of FILKIL on hand at all times never has to worry about visiting children, and grownups, hanging screen doors or holding them open while waxing enthusiastic over politics in the seven, seventeen, or seventy-year-old world. FILKIL is a super-powered household insecticide that protects the home against mosquitoes, gnats, flies, fleas, roaches, moths, ants, mites, and every form of insect, including the

R. A. TIERNAN TYPEWRITER CO., 401 W. Fourth. Even the spooks use a CORONA for writing the Halloween letter. CORONA PORTABLE is the name of that sturdy little fellow, staunch friend of the struggling writer and the high school, college and university boy and girl. The CORONA will do anything for you that his Big Brother, the L. C. Smith, will do, and that means ANYTHING that can be done with a typewriter. Corona makes a wonderful assistant for theme writing or any kind of "home work" that used to take hours longer with the old script method. When you're down town, drop in and let them show you how the CORONA works, at TIERNAN'S, on West Fourth.

UTT JUICE COMPANY, Tustin. To give a punch to your Halloween party, have your guests served by a queen, let QUEEN ISABELLA mix delicious and refreshing drinks from the pure California juices of Western Concord grapes and Orange County oranges. Queen Isabella graciously offers you bottled orange juice from the finest selected fruit, ready to serve, and as pure as the juice from the oranges in your own home. Give the holiday company a new delight in a cocktail made from Queen Isabella's golden-hued tomato juice. WASHINGTON CLEANERS & DYERS, 1109 N. Main. HALLOWEEN is no fun without a costume. Get the old one dyed at the "WASHINGTON," or even take some old dress or scraps of clothing dyed in bright yellows, greens, reds, etc., and you've no idea what clever costumes can be obtained in this manner, with scarcely any expense at all. The Washington specializes in the fine art of dyeing, and of course their cleaning plant is equally well equipped with modern methods of cleaning, in case your costume merely needs cleaning to make it a new costume. WASHINGTON CLEANERS & DYERS will do the job, however difficult, in less time and with more satisfaction. Why seek, when the "Washington" is a real FIND and is at your service with daily deliveries and the finest methods of modern cleaning and dyeing.

MAIN SERVICE GARAGE, 614 N. Main. If you've ever been a small boy, ever lived with one, or even ever read about this particular brand of humanity, you'll take heed and park your car within the secure walls of the Main Service on Halloween night.

EDDIE GILSON, HOOVER REP. at CHANDLER FURN. CO., 3rd and Main. Assuredly the house must be CLEAN for Halloween. If you're a HOOVER family, the matter is simple enough, and the entire house can be swept clean of germs and dust in a few moments. If by chance you're not one of the lucky Big Family of HOOVER users, call 33, CHANDLER'S FURNITURE, and Eddie, the Hoover Man, will gladly clean one of those rooms in a practical demonstration of what the Hoover will do, day in and day out. The new model is the last word in electrical engineering, and is constructed to last the ordinary lifetime. Buy a new Hoover today and will it to your grand-daughter on her wedding day. Only the best in workmanship and fine quality comes from CHANDLER'S.

LOWE'S KARMELKORN, 308 N. Sycamore. Halloween means buttered popcorn and red apples, and of course, popcorn balls, made from that new concoction that everybody is munching these days—KARMELKORN. If it's a party, merely the family on parade, the occasion will be a delightful success if plenty of buttered popcorn is there. You buy it at the KARMELKORN shop on N. Sycamore.

SUPERIOR SCHOOL OF BEAUTY, 410 1/2 N. Main. Better hurry and get "made up" for Halloween, because there'll be a mad rush at the last moment. You can get a lovely permanent for $1.00 and $1.75, or Combination Wave at $3.00; all permanents include FREE haircut and two months' FREE care. That sure leaves you no excuse for wearing shaggy locks these days. Nothing but first class materials used at the "Superior," all students are thoroughly trained and closely supervised by experts.

BAND BOX HAT SHOP, 118 1/2 E. Fourth. HALLOWEEN is the very last limit of service for that late summer hat; you MUST NOW have new fall headgear, and you'll find the latest and smartest, with the biggest bargains, at the littlest shop in town. Brins are a wee bit wider, says the Band Box, with a party bow at back, and Algerian red is a bit newer than the first favorite, Spanish title. The Johnnie Hat supplants the bereat.

Hooks and Slides

Contents of the booklet were divided. Part One was devoted to the deeds of the departed sportsman. Part Two outlined a plan to commemorate these deeds in a lasting memorial.

The name of the booklet was "Rockne of Notre Dame."

IRISH COUSINS

Perhaps no one has thought of it in this respect, but it strikes me that Indiana and Army football teams have been more than generous in supplying Notre Dame with triumphs in the South Bend school's two long winning streaks. I refer to the 20 games in 1919, 1920 and 1921, and the string of equal length that carried them into the present campaign.

Indiana allowed the Irish two victories in '20-'21. They let Notre Dame boost to five with the triumphs in '20-'21. Army dropped a pair of games to the South Benders in the Gipp era and kicked in with two more in the Cardie regime. This makes nine out of 40 victories that Notre Dame won from the Hoosiers and the Cadets. If it were baseball, you'd call Indiana and Army "cousins" of the Irish for being so good to them.

NO RESTRICTIONS

In each long reign of grid supremacy, Notre Dame won from an even dozen colleges. The first string included a number of victories over minor schools. None but major opponents got into the latter end. This may be taken as proof that the Irish knew they were tough and wanted nothing but foes worthy of their steel.

At any rate, Notre Dame won three games from Kalamazoo in the splurge of 10 years ago. Indiana's three losses in '20-'21 matches that, although the Hoosiers probably were stronger than Karon.

Notre Dame won two games each from Michigan State, Nebraska, Indiana, Western Normal, Army and Purdue in the days of Gipp. Cardie guided the Irish to a pair of wins over Navy, Carnegie Tech, Drake, Southern California, Northwestern and Army. There seems to be quite a difference in the quality of those two groups.

FIVE IN SINGLES CLASS

The remaining schools that filled out the earlier string were Valparaiso, Northwestern, DePaul, Mt. Union and Morrisville. They were Southern Methodist, Penn. Pitt, Wisconsin and Georgia Tech in the latter one.

There is a difference, too, in the scoring during the two reigns. In the first one Notre Dame ran up a total of 593 points, an average per game of slightly less than 30 points, to 104 by their opponents. This figures at a fraction over five points a game. The modern winning streak netted the Irish a total of 435 points in 20 games, something under 22 points per contest. The opposition totaled 112, which is almost six points a game.

From these statistics you'd naturally assume that the Irish encountered stronger opponents in the latter string of triumphs. That may be the correct assumption. But add to that the fact that Rockne never got the idea of starting "hook troops" and using them extensively until the four Horsemen started to ride.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Utility and industrial stocks, aided by pool operations, brought the stock market up sharply from early losses.

The close was irregular with railroad shares heaviest losers.

Early unsettlement was caused indirectly by the complicated Interstate Commerce Commission report made public after the close yesterday several days after it had been completed by the commission.

ARE REPARATION AND INTERALLIED DEBTS NOT TO BE PAID?

It surely looks so at the present time. It is quite generally agreed that the moratorium pushed through by President Hoover will have to be extended beyond the time set. Germany will be in no better condition to carry on under the Young plan a year from now than today. England is in no condition to continue her payments to the United States, with her export trade declining and her income from shipping service and foreign investments much curtailed. And certainly the other European nations will not be able to meet their obligations to us unless German reparations are paid, for it is from that source that they expect to pay them.

We can see no possible hope for the payment of reparations and the interallied debts. This being so, what is to be done about it all? The whole business has been a source of uncertainty and confusion ever since the Peace conference of Versailles. There are financial and economic experts who are ready to say that the world would long ago have become stabilized and going about its normal business had the treaty makers called the whole business of collecting excessive reparations from Germany off at the beginning, and had proceeded immediately to liquidating all the disastrous consequences of the war.

It means a good deal to us here in the United States. Our lendings to the Allies increased our national debt some ten billion dollars. According to the funding agreements drawn up between ourselves and our debtors, the payment is to be extended over nearly seventy years, and even then we will not have collected anywhere near what we loaned in dollars. In good times we have been able to make considerable inroads into the debt. Therefore, it would seem that to create a situation which would make for good times would be better than to try to collect the debts and have such times as we are passing through at present. Seventy years is a long time. If the wealth of the country increases only half as much as it has increased during the period since the Civil War, the payment of the amount we hope to collect would not be a difficult matter.

The best minds are beginning to prophesy that these debts can never be collected without bringing about revolution and the possible break-up of our civilization. If such is the case, we had better begin to forget about them. And it appears that this sentiment is growing rapidly among our intelligent citizens.

The Japs say they don't want war in Manchuria. Just sending troops up there to learn how to make chop suey.

A LITTLE VISIT

Now comes a flyer from Ottawa, Canada, capital of the Dominion, and in twelve hours visits besides Ottawa, Washington City and Mexico City in old Mexico.

The last lap of the journey from Tampico to Mexico City he made at the rate of about 250 miles per hour. His speed for the entire distance was 235 miles per hour, and his average speed, including his stops, was 204 miles per hour.

Distance is becoming nothing. We notice that it is expected that we will soon be traveling from Los Angeles to New York in regular passenger service in one day. And they tell us that 500 miles per hour for passenger service is just around the corner.

And yet we hardly need to hurry so. It isn't so important for most of us. We would like to rest in the country of the ox-cart, if we could find such a place.

Fifty million people can't be wrong. It must have been the world serious.

REACTIONS TO HOOVER'S SUPER-BANK OF CREDIT

The two leading financial papers of the country, the Annalist and the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, are sympathetic with Mr. Hoover's plan. But they are none too confident. The Annalist warns its readers not to expect too much. The Commercial and Financial Chronicle frankly says it is not the way out.

The savings banks are loaded with money, and where ample security can be given money is easily borrowed. Both papers feel that money loaned on "weak securities" may do more harm than good. Well, what can be done? We hope some one will stand up and tell us who really has the secret. Are we in a trap from which delivery is impossible? We would like to know.

THE DIESEL ENGINE THE HOPE OF THE FARMER(?)

The editor of the Farm Journal notes the growing use of the Diesel engine, a heavy oil engine which is driving more and more ocean steamers. He notes the fact the present generation has grown up on gasoline and the gas engine, while the three preceding generations grew up on coal and the steam engine. The future is with the Diesel engine.

Various grades of crude petroleum are being used in the Diesel engine. And the engineers are saying that there is no reason why cheap vegetable oils might not be used just as well. If this should seem to be practical it opens up a field for the farmer.

The gasoline engine has made serious inroads on the markets for hay and oats. May not this new power agency furnish a new source of income from a crop which hitherto has had a very limited market? Let us hope that the farmer will soon become the beneficiary of a new break. Surely, for the past ten years the breaks have been all against him, and never more so than in this present year of depression.

IN MEMORIAM

Tonight at 7 o'clock, the nation will dim its lights in honor of Thomas A. Edison.

If at that moment we could light the old kerosene lamps, or that which some of us remember full well, the candle, it would emphasize even more strikingly than the darkness what the incandescent lamp, with the electrical power, means to the world.

There should be a rise in the spirit of gratitude at 7 o'clock tonight.

A Man's Viewpoint

Burbank Daily Review

An estimable Roman matron by the name of Cornelia has been noted in history for having pointed to her sons and remarked: "These are my jewels." What she thought, if anything, of Mr. Gracchus, father of the boys, history fails to record. Yet the Gracchus family moved in the best of Roman social circles and somebody had to pay the bills.

Cornelia's attitude has been shared by wives since the beginning of the marriage custom. No more startling illustration of woman's lack of business acumen could be found than her failure to discover in her husband a cash asset.

If you stop to consider it, every man who works at all may be regarded by his wife as so much capital. If he is making $30 a week his cash value is $78,000 plus interest if he lives to his fiftieth wedding anniversary. Even the parson and professor laboring for a mere $3000 a year, when viewed in this light, constitute a surprisingly important investment. In other words, a husband is the physical embodiment of his earning capacity.

Woman, ordinarily, is not careless of her possessions. She keeps her jewels in a strong box and her furs and finery in a cedar chest. Such tangible assets as sewing machines, washing machines, lawnmowers and other domestic appliances she guards with a scrupulous care. Yet she permits the highest priced machine in the house to work overtime without the least consideration for wear and tear. Of course she keeps her husband locked up at night, thereby breaking the cardinal principle of economics, that capital should be kept in circulation.

What a happy world this would be for husbands if wives could be made to understand that when they send their husbands into the cellar to tend the furnace they are risking the loss of an investment of some thousands of dollars.

Children Should Be Taught Gangsters Are Not Heroes

President Hoover's radio address to the meeting of the International Association of Police Chiefs should be thoughtfully considered by men and women everywhere, particularly by parents and teachers.

There is a sentimentalism in some people which makes popular heroes out of criminals, which needs replacement by a sentimentalism that makes a popular hero of a policeman for the courage and devotion he shows in protection of our citizens.

That tendency to make heroes of criminals is one of the curious facts of the time. It ought to be plain enough to intelligent adults that gangsters today are not Robinhoods in any sense. They are not daring gentlemen fighting against injustice to the common people. They are the enemies of society, not the friends. They are the product of evil environment and misdirected energies. Even when they are the pitiable victims of circumstances beyond their control, they are not heroic.

Old Inventions and New

Pomona Progress-Bulletin

New inventions and mechanical devices are very often simply old ones brought up to date. As an example, there are the propellers of the great new dirigible Akron. These propellers are mounted swivel-fashion. Operated with the blades vertical, they drive the ship straight ahead; swung to a horizontal plane, they help the ship move straight up. All in all, they are the very latest thing in dirigible equipment.

However, in "Wings for Men," an entertaining history of aviation written by Frank Wead and produced this fall by the Century Co., it is revealed that the first airship Count Zeppelin ever built had the same sort of arrangement. It didn't work very well, and Zeppelin abandoned it in his later models; but today's device is simply a perfecting of the stunt he tried decades ago. If he could look at the Akron's propellers he might remark—"Oh, yes, I tried that a long time ago, but I couldn't make it work as you can."

Photographs in Total Darkness

San Francisco Chronicle

The rather shopworn "cloak of darkness" is in danger of losing its force as a figure of speech. For even pitch black darkness need no longer be a cloak of secrecy if a buy camera man is around and the supply of infra-red rays holds out.

Demonstrations have been made of a new process by which pictures taken in what to the human eye is total darkness come out as clearly as if made in broad daylight.

Stars three magnitudes smaller than ever photographed before will now have their pictures taken by the "invisible light."

While the astronomers are happy in this aid to their science, the man in the street—particularly the dark street—may wonder who is photographing him with infra-red rays and how his picture will look when transmitted by television to the reception sets of his jibing friends.

Privacy seems doomed to be a lost art.

Men On Horseback!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE BITTER PART OF VALOR

I am strong for historical heroes;
I applaud the redoubtable knights
Who engage in a life of red carnage and strife
And were constantly hunting for fights.
They battled for kings or for damsels
Till their armor was battered with dents.
Their prowess and skill gives me many a thrill—
But I cannot say much for their sense.

The story of how little David
Paved the way to become a great king
By facing, defiant, a gloowering giant
And laying him low with a sling,
Arouses my deep admiration;
Astoundingly bold was his feat,
But a lad of mere brain, I am free to maintain,
Would have probably been more discreet.

Horatius, who beat off the Tuscans
Until the old bridge was hewn down,
And then boldly defied Tiber's turbulent tide
While swimming his way back to town,
Was doubtless a Heaven-born hero
And a figure of noble romance,
But I think just the same that in seeking for fame
The boy took too much of a chance.

I can thrill at the stories of Hector,
And all of the lads of his time;
They took deep delight in a while of a fight
And the deeds that they did were sublime.
But if they had acted like Paris,
Though they mightn't have made the first page
In the annals of war that were written of yore,
They'd have lived to a ripper old age.

SOMETHING OF A PUZZLE

And now the majority of the American people are wondering who the dickens the Empress Eugenie was, any way.

A HANDICAP

They called Theodore "Teddy" and it was a big help. But "Frankie" won't be so catchy.

NO TROUBLE AT ALL

To make their five-year plan a success, all the Russians will have to do is to eliminate human nature.

Uncommon Sense

BY JOHN BLAKE

PREVENTABLE STUPIDITY

Lack of education is not always one's own fault. Lately I have been in a forest wilderness where schools were few and poor, and where most of the young people were compelled to work so hard to "help out the family" that they had no time or opportunity to go away to school, even if they had had the means.

But much to my surprise I found these people eager to meet and talk to strangers, and entirely without prejudices of any sort, so far as I could find.

The same was true of the savage races in the Pacific before they began to associate with white men.

Now they are as full of prejudice as they are of taboos, usually for the very good reason that most of the white men they met have used them very shabbily, and have shown them the way to prejudice by conceiving a prejudice against every person not of their own race or religion.

It seems a curious thing, in this age when intelligence is more general and education is vastly more widespread, that prejudice still exists.

Yet you will find it wherever you go, especially in large cities where the people should, by this time, have learned better.

For prejudice is really nothing but a form of stupidity, and a very vicious form, for it is preventable.

No human creature has any way of knowing that his particular religion is a better religion or a more helpful religion than the religion of those around him, yet at least half the people reared in a certain faith are convinced that those who follow another faith are doomed to perdition.

No member of any race can be sure that his race was the race designed by the Creator to dominate the world, for no intelligent person believes that the Creator ever set apart any race as His special favorites.

Yet race prejudice, which was at its worst during the middle ages, still survives, and is one of the stumbling blocks in the way of progress in many otherwise civilized countries.

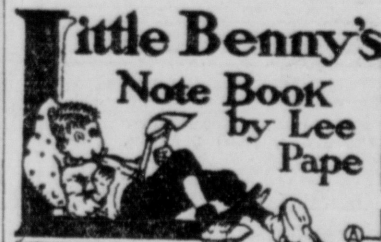

This form of stupidity is all the worse because it is preventable. Getting rid of it is a job, which ought to begin in the home, but that is where it is first fostered.

Certainly it ought to be the duty of school teachers everywhere to seek to eradicate it.

It marks its possessor as a conceited and bigoted "dumb-bell," who has never taken the trouble to learn anything about history, or even about his neighbors.

We have a long hard job ahead of us, eradicating disease, spreading education, and making the human race what the Creator obviously intended us to make it.

We can afford to nurse no prejudices while we are doing it.

We was having joggerty in school today and Miss Kitty said, Now I want you boys to understand that a joggerty is not just something in a joggerty book, it has a relation to real life, in other words I mean traveling, and it is a well known fact that the greatest education, the best broadener of the mind, is traveling. Now is there anybody who doesn't understand what I mean by that? she said.

Which nobody raised their hand, and Miss Kitty said, Good, then I'll call for a few examples of a practical nature. Now who can give me an instance where we would learn something, be tawt by traveling? she said.

Sam Cross raised his hand, saying, Suppose you was traveling in Germany and you was in a train and you couldn't even pronounce the name of the place you was going to, but it was printed on your ticket so you didn't have to worry, and the conductor came around and you found out you had lost your ticket, that would teach you not to forget things.

You could learn that just as well at home, and I wish some of you boys would learn it in this very schoolroom, Miss Kitty said. Who else can give me an example? she said.

Which Charley Chizholm raised his hand, saying, Suppose you was traveling in China and you couldn't find your way back to your hotel and there wasn't anybody around but Chinese talking Chinese and expecting you to talk it too if you wanted to ask them questions, that would teach you that everybody awt to know English.

That would be a very selfish lesson to derive from the incident, I'm sure, now who else? All right, Benny Potts, Miss Kitty said, and I said, Suppose you was traveling in the desert and there was nothing around but sand and sheeps and camels and all of a sudden you came to a little moving picture place with a sign saying Kut Up Comedy today, that would teach you the world is a small place after all.

No doubt, we will go on to the stilling lesson, Miss Kitty said.

Which we did.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

OCTOBER 21, 1917

City Marshal Jernigan today took up with a number of warehouses along the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific tracks the advisability of placing electric lights at corners of the buildings.

The First National bank of this city has made arrangements for the installation of an electric sign which will be a display of the United States flag in red, white and blue.

Workmen have been engaged for several days laying water pipe along the half-mile strip on the San Francisco road between Scott Lane and the limits of Santa Clara, which is soon to be paved by the state.

Robert Carson Smith has been appointed leader of the 20 men who will leave Santa Ana at 5:27 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for Camp Lewis.

A reception for incoming freshmen of Orange high school took place yesterday at the school.

Improvements to cost $2000 are to be made at the residence of Mrs. M. M. Crookshank, 802 French street. Chris McNeill is the contractor.

The Ebell society of Santa Ana valley has invested $2000 in the second liberty loan.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

BUSINESS MUST GO LIBERAL

In the past the business man has not been a leader in the socio-economic reforms looking to the security and welfare of the masses.

He has left that to the reformers. He has gone on the assumption that if he stuck to his knitting and managed his own business ably he was fulfilling his duty.

The current depression, however, is proving that faulty economic policy in the politico-economic world generally can nullify the constructive results of even the most ably conducted business.

It is not enough to develop a technically sound system for making and marketing goods; the general economic system must be such that the masses are in position to buy the goods.

The machine order is more dependent on the economic order than most business men have realized.

I believe that as it becomes increasingly clear that flaws in the general economic policies of a people can bring to a standstill businesses and industries that, in themselves, are magnificently managed, the socio-economic outlook of business and industrial leadership will inevitably broaden, and that an intelligently selfish interest will foster rather than fight sound social and economic policies in the interest of mass welfare.

The argument of intelligent self-interest will take on increasing validity as the machine age matures. It was a doubtful doctrine before the later days of the machine age with its large-scale production for the penalties of unintelligent self-interest were not so devastating then as now.

But, as heads of industries halted by the current depression can testify, the tone and temper and economic health of the socio-economic order in general is the soil in which the enterprises of the industrialists must grow, and upon the thinness or fertility of this soil the success or failure of their separate ventures depends.

In the sensitively intricate machine order we have created the dependence of business success upon the socio-economic order in general is such that the business man must turn social statesman or go bankrupt.

The pressure upon him to turn statesman will be powerful in the generation ahead.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE GLUTTON

We are learning more and more about how children grow. We do not make so many mistakes as we used to do. There is still plenty of room for improvement, plenty of need for the distribution of knowledge regarding children, but we can be thankful and hopeful, too.

There is a fat little boy who lives on our street. He is always eating. "Why don't you make him stop eating so much?" Why don't you take that cracker away from him? He's too fat now," said his big sister.

"It won't do any good. He is hungry all the time. The doctor tells me that he needs treatment and medicine and then he will not want to eat all the time. By and by his digestion will work all right and he won't feel hungry all the time. We have to be patient a little."

I remember the time when that mother would have snatched the cracker out of the pudgy hand, smacked that youngster and scolded him for being such a glutton. That is what she did with his older brother until we rescued him. So times are better for the mothers and the children. But as I hinted, not perfect enough to warrant our all taking a day off. Not yet.

There are still people who think that a scolding and a smack will cure almost everything, even overweight. The overweight children are suffering, most of them at least, from malnutrition. What they need is a careful examination and a diet fit for their needs. No child is hungry all day long. If he eats like that there is something the matter and the sooner he is taken to the doctor the better.

There are children who will eat too much at a time if they are not watched. There are those who will eat all they can hold of one item of their diet. A careful watch must be kept on them to see that they get enough, and a variety of food. After that they can go ahead and enjoy themselves.

The adolescent boy ought to have a good appetite. It is nothing unusual for a healthy boy to eat more than his father, or his mother. He ought to be protected from the glories of his dieting sister. He is a sensitive soul even if he does eat like a horse and talk like one. It is entirely out of order for sister to say, "Goodness. Where do you put it? That's the fourth slice of bread, and goodness knows how many potatoes, to say nothing of the vegetables you have eaten. You're a bottomless pit."

Such remarks do harm. Personalities ought to be barred in the family, anyway. Especially at the table, good manners are imperative. They save friction and prevent a lot of unhappiness that is caused by needless words and actions. Growing children ought to have good appetites and they ought to be allowed to enjoy them to the full.

Few children can rightfully be called gluttons. The few that eat to excess need the care of the expert physician at once. A little attention to the menu will direct the others to discreet ways.

SEA BATTLE AT RIGA

On October 21, 1917, the Germans suffered heavy losses in fighting in and near the Gulf of Riga.

Six German torpedo boats were sunk and two dreadnaughts, one cruiser, six torpedo boats and one transport were put out of action. The Russian fleet was driven into the inner waters of Moon sound behind a barrier of mines planted by German submarines. German submarines appeared in the Gulf of Finland.

Later the German fleet bombarded positions on the western coast of the Gulf of Riga.

British troops attacked the Turks northwest of Baghdad, and the Turks retreated. The British captured a number of prisoners and much ammunition.

And while the German fleet was bombarding the Gulf of Riga, allied warships were bombarding Ostend.
